foreword

Warwick High students are traveling on the road to the future. Throughout the duration of their stay at Warwick they are being prepared for the remainder of their life-long journeys. As the faces of Warwick students slowly turn toward their individual paths, glimmers of the past years' events cross each mind—orientation with the "Trial of the Finky Farmer"—new eighth graders—Rudi, our foreign exchange student—traffic held up by the crowds in the wooden hall—broken bones and football practice—the middle hall with people lined up against the walls—homecoming—burgandy, madras, and elephant jokes—college boards—flashes of maroon, gold, and basketballs—the Seniors putting on Juniors' Class rings—S.C.A. elections with wall to wall posters—everyone rushing—the long-awaited Senior Prom and tired Juniors—last minute cramming for those final exams—and the end of the beginning... Graduation!

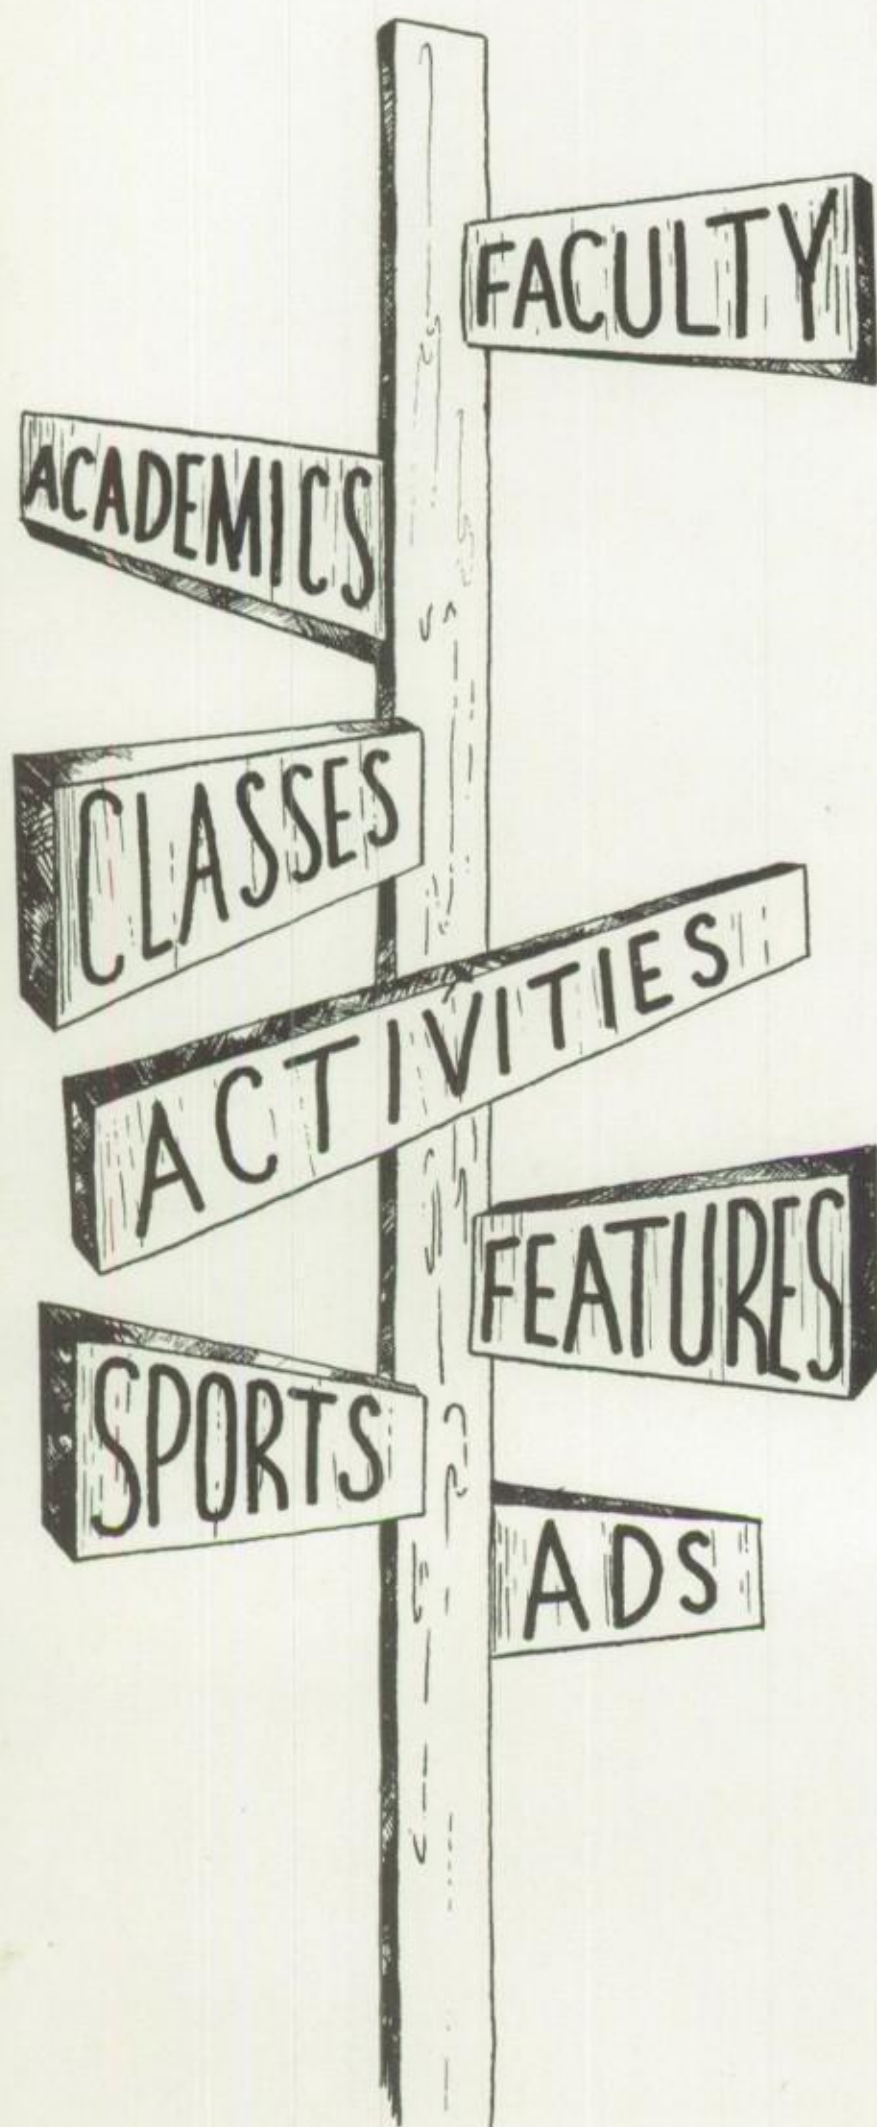

As you know, this has been quite an eventful year for us, hasn't it!? I hope you will remember the good times, as well as the unfortunate, for it takes good with the bad to make life. I've enjoyed our talks together and I hope they've been so meaningful to you. It won't be the same not being at 1st church as at Warwick visiting and I'll certainly miss it all. Hope you will choose a real service as your occupation for life because people need dedicated people to help lift our standards. Be sure to keep Mr. T straight next year and I'll try to keep straight. You've been a real good friend + hope to see you.

Dedication

Mr. Lyle Smith

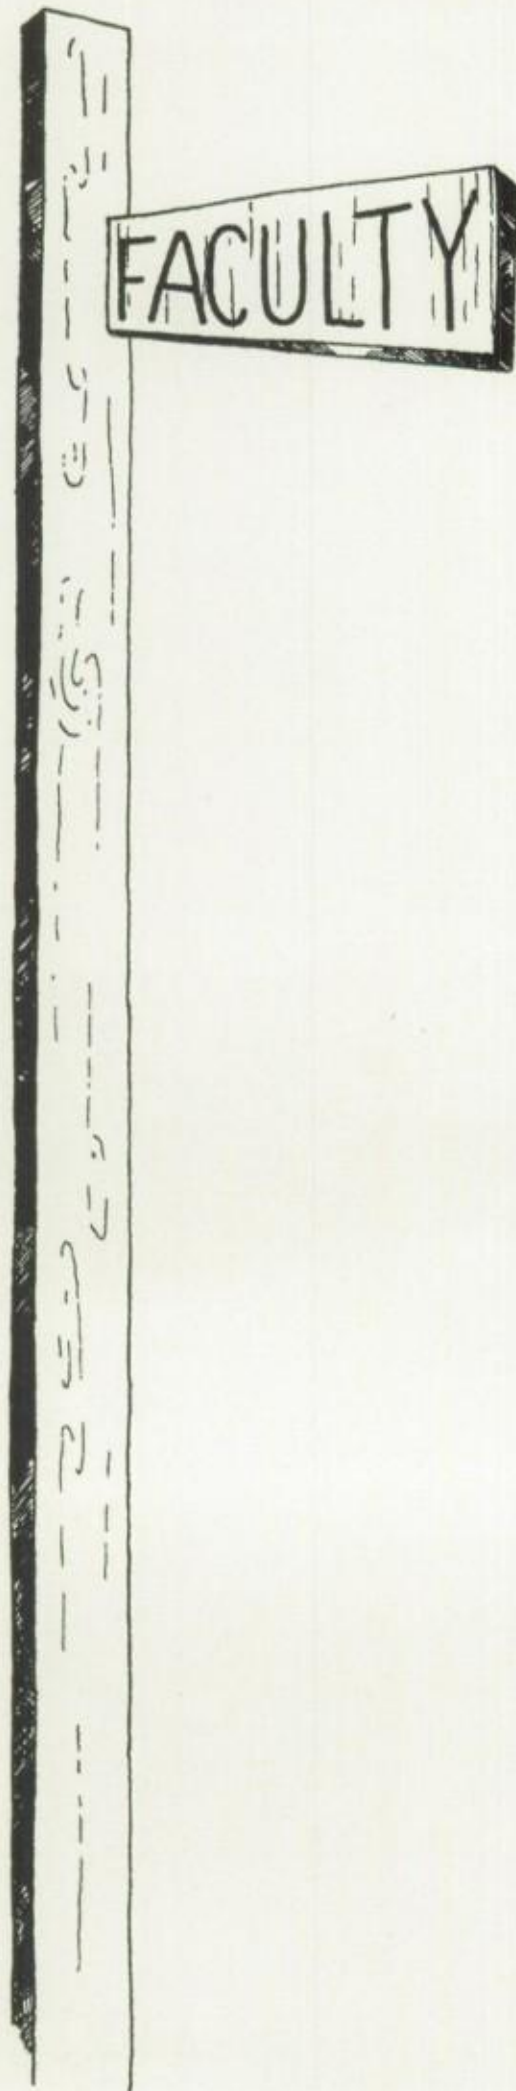

When the Grenadier Band and Bagpipe Corps march proudly onto the football field at half-time, who is the dignified leader at the head of the column in his English uniform?

He has devoted time and effort to the Warwick High School Music Department since 1950. Under his energetic and skillful leadership the band has won many awards and trophies. With his guidance they have traveled to various cities participating in parades, and have rarely failed to bring Warwick recognition.

To this wonderfully devoted and school-spirited man, MR. LYLE SMITH, we dedicate THE 1964 WARWICK.

FACULTY

Teachers guide us along the pathways of the future. Their encouragement and reassurance have been our inspirations. Who but a teacher could exert such a lasting influence?

Principals

Our principal, Mr. Richards and his two assistants, Mrs. Virginia Kostyal, and Mr. William Formichelli, have worked hard this year to coordinate the traditional Warwick High faculty-student relations and keep our school standards in accordance with state requirements. Mr. Richards approves or rejects activities and projects that the school organizations plan for the students, directs the faculty, and generally oversees everything at Warwick. Mrs. Kostyal and Mr. Formichelli together enforce the school rules and discuss problems concerning discipline with students and their parents. Mr. Formichelli also reviews the curriculum which includes seeing that students are placed in classes on their academic level. Mrs. Kostyal spends time with student activities and is chairman of the faculty social committee.

Mr. George G. Richards, Jr. represents Warwick with a sincere smile and a friendly attitude.

Mr. Richards confers with Mr. Formichelli and Mrs. Koystal on important school business.

Mrs. Virginia Koystal, Assistant Principal, is always willing to be of service.

Mr. William F. Formichelli, Assistant Principal, has a full schedule.

Office Staff

As always, the office staff was an exceptionally vital group in Warwick High School. Under the capable leadership of Mrs. Lucille Leviner, personal secretary to Mr. Richards, the often hectic business of each day was efficiently carried out. A daily record of absentees was maintained by Mrs. Polly Pursifull, while Mrs. Alice Lundeen managed the many college transcripts of the seniors. Serving as bookkeeper, Mrs. Illa Hamlett found much of her time consumed with handling the finances of the various school organizations. Mrs. Mary Edwards, a new member of the staff, worked with the three IBM machines to record grades, schedules, and the names of absentees. Working hand in hand with these dedicated women were the many girls who served as their assistants.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Mary Edwards, Trent Taylor learns the techniques of feeding data to complicated IBM machines.

These are our office assistants:

Carol Harris
Karen Baals
Caroline Cartin
Barbara Pardue
Dorothy Thompson
Ann Rollings
Ann Gillen
Marie Shetenhelm
Carol Hicks
Linda Bowles
Suzanne LeHew
Carol Gough
Paulette Ellingsworth

Maria Kurowski

Mrs. Illa Hamlett, Mrs. Polly Pursifull, Mrs. Alice Lundeen, Mrs. Lucille Leviner, and Mrs. Mary Edwards are our office staff whose services to students and faculty are invaluable.

Our Guidance Counselors are: Miss Atkinson, Mr. Fleet, Mrs. Muire, Mrs. Palmer, Miss Mason, and Mr. Wingfield.

Guidance Staff

If, as you hurried through the halls of Warwick High School, you overheard the words "college boards", "scholarships", "P. S. A. T.", or "college transcripts", you were probably in the midst of the hustle and bustle of the guidance office. This was the students' home away from home during school hours, giving individual advice about schedule planning, educational and vocational opportunities, scholarships and college loans, and personal matters relating to school and home. Each grade had one counselor with the exception of the eighth grade, which had two. Under the competent direction of Miss Jean Atkinson, the six counselors and their assistants industriously performed their duties. These included administering and interpreting standardized tests and working with teachers regarding students and curriculum. They also collaborated with the visiting teacher, the school psychologist, and various community organizations.

Our Guidance Assistants are: (standing) Peggy Winall, Carolyn Lancaster, Carolyn Purgold, Elsie Carter, Dell Adams, Sherry Barlow, (seated) Cynthia Estringham, Richard Blackwell.

Cynthia knows the guidance office is a big help in college planning.

ACADEMICS

Each student at Warwick High School is a respected individual with his own hopes and aspirations. Regardless of what these ambitions may be, each person is given the opportunity to develop and to acquire knowledge through utilization of any of the educational opportunities available.

English

The English Department had for the first time this year a bound course of study, revised on all grade levels. This course also included the program for drama, speech, and journalism. Suggested reading lists to serve as guides were provided for all pupils in school.

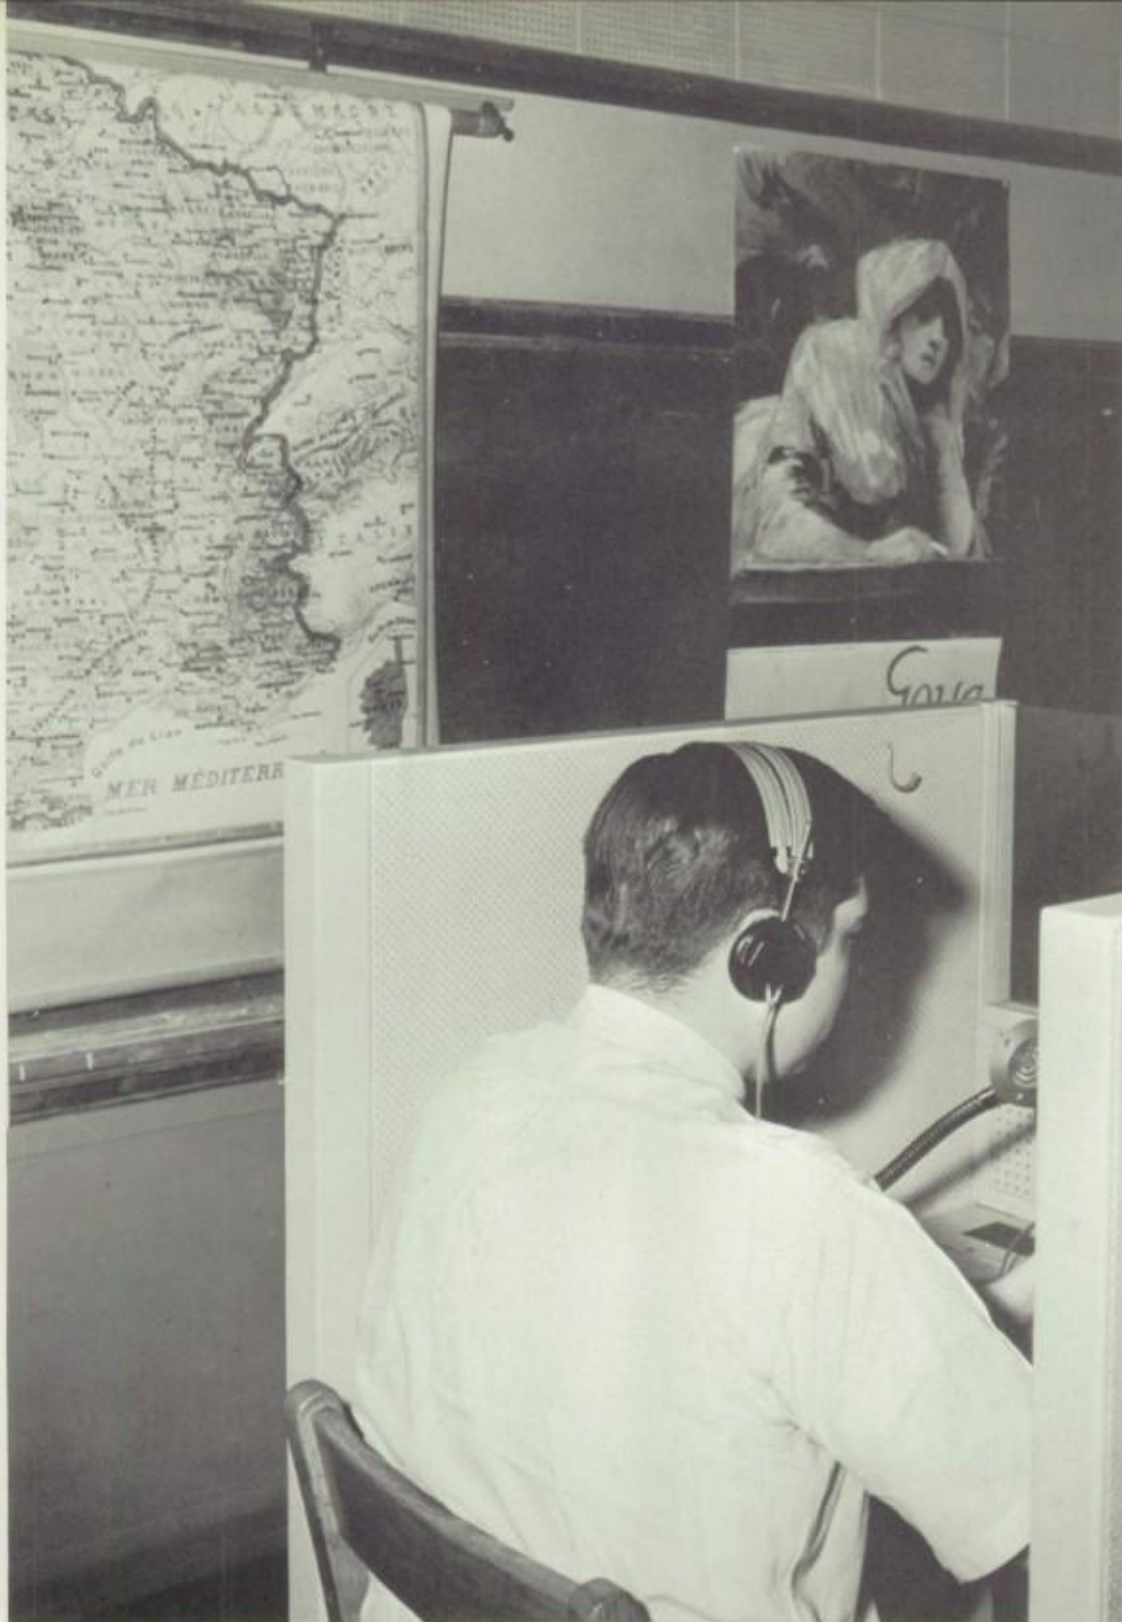

The department sponsored a number of activities related to this field. Among these were the Forensic activities of the Virginia High School League. Miss Ann Griffith was in charge of spelling; Miss Lois Callahan, creative writing; Mrs. Linda Dietz, prose and poetry, reading and drama. The department accepted the responsibility for the sale of tickets for the World Heritage Series sponsored by the senior class, which encouraged the viewing of movie classics and aided the class treasury.

The staff was composed of twenty members, and department meetings were held monthly for the purpose of hearing speakers who were outstanding in a particular phase of English teaching.

Perhaps the highlight of the year's work was a course given in speed reading. The request of thirty-nine rising seniors of the class of '64 indirectly brought into being the experimental Reading Improvement Course. Twenty college-bound students participated in this eight-week experiment. The students met for a normal class period every day. Reading speed and comprehension were checked before instructions were begun, and then retested at the end of the experimental period. It is the contention of the program sponsors that reading speed and comprehension of subject matter was greatly increased.

In the new Speed Reading Course the hands are used to train the eyes.

Students acquire fluency in foreign language as they use the lab.

Foreign Language

The Foreign Language Department, which includes both modern and classical languages, has offered this year four levels of instruction in French, Spanish, and Latin. German, which was new in the curriculum last year, was offered on first and second year levels this year.

Instruction in all levels of modern languages includes increased practice in audio-lingual skills, at the same time maintaining the more traditional skills of reading and writing. Many technical devices are utilized to promote progress in the ability to understand and speak the language. A thirty-booth language laboratory, complete with earphones, microphones, and recording equipment, is used weekly by the French, Spanish, and German classes. Supplementing the laboratory are portable tape recorders, phonographs, and movie and slide projectors available for daily use in the classroom.

New textbooks, Cumbres de la civilizacion, espanola, Espana, and Langue et Civilisation Francaises IV have been added this year as well as additional tapes, records, maps, dictionaries, supplementary readers and reference books for use in the study of literature and other aspects of culture and civilization.

Mathematics

This year under the direction of Mrs. Daisy Bright the Mathematics Department has undergone a thorough renovation. A different approach to mathematics was instituted with a new series of textbooks in which the set concept was used. As this concept was introduced, the student found it easier to isolate solutions to problems because he had only to consider the set of numbers in which the answers must be. Since sets have become a vital part of the course of study, they should help to make mathematics more meaningful to all the students.

Many levels of mathematics were offered in the curriculum this year. Three years of general math were available. Many students took first and second year algebra. Plain, solid, and coordinate geometry were combined in a single geometry course, while a course which included a semester of solid geometry and a semester of trigonometry was also taught. Advanced high school mathematics was offered in preparation for college work.

Students concentrate on Geometry.

Science

This year the Science Department has increased its emphasis on laboratory activities spending forty per-cent of the time on experiments, movies, projects, and demonstrations. They have also reinstated the "advanced" science courses in biology, chemistry, and physics. The first semester course was an advanced biology course in genetics and the second semester course was an advanced physics course in space science.

This year the physics classes had a new book entitled Physics, a Basic Science, and their laboratory has been equipped with new tables, chairs, and microscopes enabling them to undertake many worthwhile student experiments.

The outlines for the eighth and ninth grade science courses and tenth grade biology courses have been revised on a city-wide basis. The classrooms also have been equipped with new furniture.

The science students examine the new equipment with curiosity.

"No boys, this isn't a space helmet. It's a gyroscope!"

Distributive Education

The high school Distributive Education Training Program, which involves thirty students this year, derives its name from the cooperative working arrangement between the school and distributive businesses in the community. Students were selected for the D. E. program only after careful study of standardized test results, school records, attendance records, and recommendations of school counselors and subject teachers.

Early in the school year there was a joint banquet of students and coordinators for the purpose of installing officers for the seven district schools. Classes were taught before Christmas by the D. E. coordinators with approximately one hundred students participating for the purpose of placing them in part-time jobs over the Christmas holidays. In the early spring there was another banquet to express appreciation to the employers for the training they gave the students. At this time awards were given to any student who had shown unusual ability or accomplishment.

Business

The Business Department, headed by Mrs. Burcher, has attempted to teach interested students the fundamentals of business, as well as specialized courses for those who plan their future in business. A new book 20th Century has been used in the typing classes and two new electric typewriters have been added for advanced typing. This year Clerical Practice was combined with Vocational Office Training, better known as VOT. Warwick High was the first school to offer VOT for business seniors, in 1948. Since that time the program has grown, not only at Warwick, but in five other area high schools. VOT is a terminal course for seniors who are planning to enter the business field upon graduation. A student must have had two years of typing, one year of shorthand, and it is recommended that they have general business, record keeping, or bookkeeping as prerequisites. The course is divided into three parts: office procedures, business machines, and work experience. This year students are working in banks, doctors', lawyers', and insurance offices. They are also working for the school board, the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company Credit Union, and for local merchants. This course offers an opportunity for the student to become a full-time employee upon graduation.

Business Students obtain skill in working with complicated machines such as these.

In VOT the girls practice office skills in the classroom.

These boys are working in the new electronics course set up this year.

Industrial Education

This year progress at Warwick is very evident in the new Industrial Education Department. Many changes have affected the former Industrial Arts Department.

The teaching personnel has been increased to a total of five. Four years of drafting, wood work, and metal work are provided under the instruction of Mr. William E. Jones, Mr. Albert F. Pinkham, and Mr. Ted C. Smith, respectively.

Franklin G. Hardison, head of the department, is the industrial Cooperative Training Coordinator. I. C. T., as this program is called, is a form of cooperative part-time education, designed to provide vocational training opportunities for high school juniors and seniors. It is a cooperative enterprise between business and industrial establishments in the community and the public high school. Through their employment, the students learn the manipulative part of their jobs under actual working conditions. Simultaneously, the school furnishes the technical subject material related to the job being learned. Mr. Hardison serves as a qualified teacher-coordinator who directs the students in their study of related technical information and visits them periodically on the job. There are over two hundred and fifty different occupations at which the student may work in this program.

Mr. Charles A. Brown teaches the new courses in electronics and electricity. Through class discussions, demonstrations, laboratory experimentation, and home assignments, an introduction to electronics is provided in the first year of the course. A complete line of test instruments is introduced to the students through use and practice. In the second year course of electronics, students acquire extensive knowledge and skills using tools, instruments, and machines. Through the construction and operation of electrical-electronic devices, wiring and repairing of electrical circuits, and use of test equipment the students further their knowledge. The course in electricity provides a basis for any further studies in this field. Technical, general, and occupational material is provided.

The shop boys check their work schedules.

Library

Library assistant Hope Tatum uses the automatic stamper to check books out for a student.

The library contained approximately 14,000 volumes and received 85 current periodicals. The book collection has been carefully selected to provide books necessary to supplement the studies of all students and to permit students to read widely in subjects not covered by formal classes. A staff of two trained librarians and 48 student assistants was available to help students and teachers make effective use of library resources.

The library also handles the audio visual materials from the city and state. Therefore films, film strips, records, and equipment were made available for teachers' and students' use.

Social Studies

The Social Studies Department, headed by Mrs. Biggins, has worked hard to further itself in various fields which include World History, U. S. History, World Geography, Sociology, Economics, and Virginia and U. S. Government. There have been many films which were of great value to the classes, such as the film from Williamsburg, "The Patriot," which was shown at the beginning of the year in history classes. One of the new books this year is The Meaning of Communism which is used in the government classes' study of Communist governments. The Sociology class, which has been offered only two years at Warwick, was very active this year. They had field trips, discussion groups, films, and lectures, which included such speakers as a social worker, a marriage counselor, a police officer, a traffic engineer, and a school superintendent. The purpose of this class was to give the students a better understanding of their society and other cultures. The U. S. History and Government classes also used this method with lectures, films, surveys, and oral reports.

Social Studies students make use of the bulletin board for visual aids to study.

Art

The Art Department at Warwick could have best been appreciated by visiting the classroom. This department, headed by Mr. Sheaks, was well equipped and the enthusiasm on the part of the students and teachers could not be equaled. An enlarged staff of four, including Mr. Briton, Mrs. Carson, Miss Perrin, and Mr. Sheaks, introduced several new methods of developing creativity in the student. Besides the usual courses of drawing, painting, ceramics, metal work, wood carving, and printing, more emphasis was placed on weaving as well as creative stitchery. In some advanced classes a new course, "Drawing in Various Media," was introduced. Team teaching was also employed in conjunction with this. The program encouraged individuality on the part of the student, and team teaching was an effective means of accomplishing this.

These students are busy painting in art.

Home Economics

The Homemaking Department has enlarged its stock with three new textbooks. How to Plan and Prepare Meals and Woman's Home Companion Cook Book were used in teaching the course on cooking. Homes with Character was very beneficial while studying interior decorating.

Some of the projects undertaken this year by the more advanced home economics students were slip covers and prom gowns. The beginning students made skirts and dresses.

This year there were three girls in their fifth year of homemaking. These students were given the opportunity to observe the children at the Happy Hours Kindergarten in order to further their knowledge of behavior, growth, and social response. On several occasions they also had the advantage of teaching the new homemaking students. By means of this arrangement the underclassmen and the seniors gained much knowledge and experience.

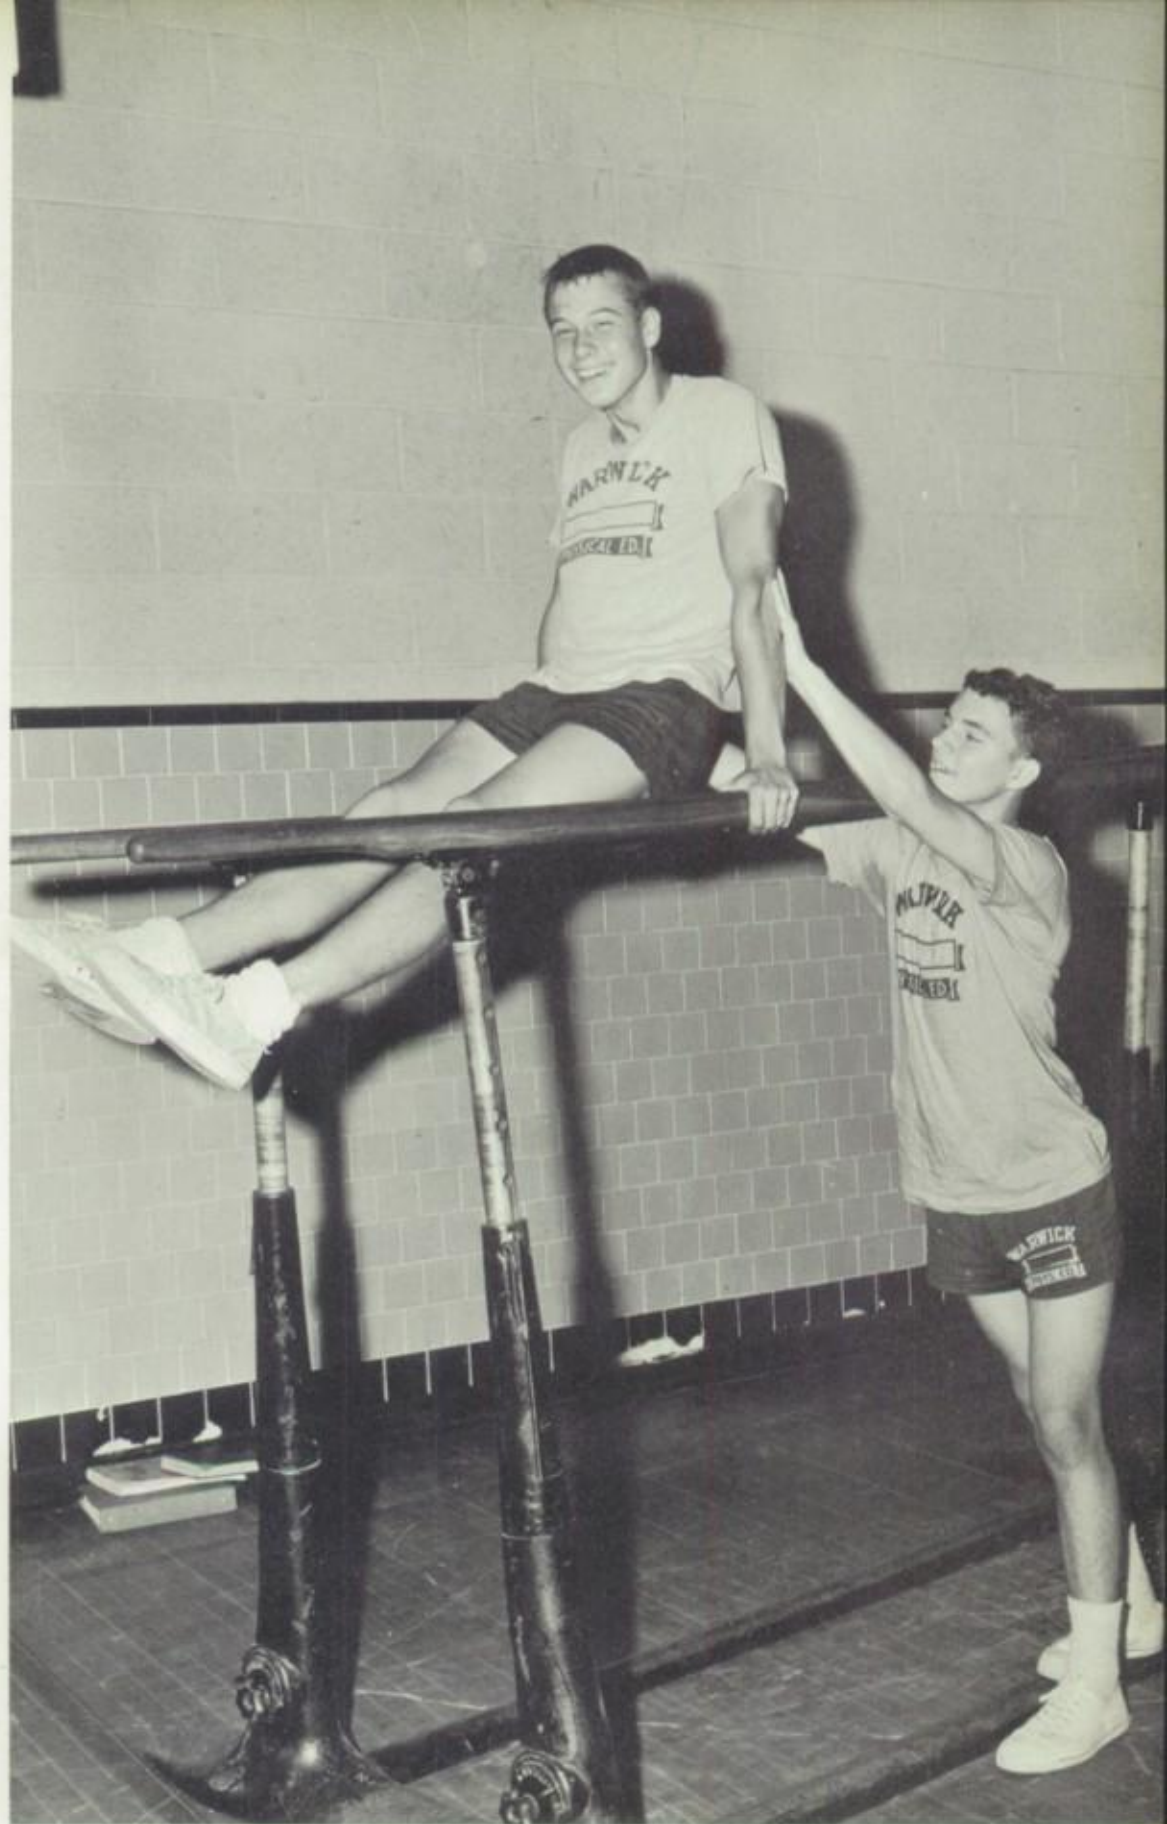

The Special Education classes also used the homemaking classrooms as they learned the techniques of sewing and hand work.

Girls in Home Ec. learn every facet of preparing a meal.

Physical Education

This year the Girls' and Boys' Physical Education classes have exercised and conditioned themselves to be as physically fit and able as it is possible. The gymnastic program for girls was expanded by the purchase of a set of uneven parallel bars and a balance beam. The addition of this new equipment to the even parallel bars and the horse has given them a complete set of olympic gymnastic equipment. The girls' gym classes also competed in intramural basketball, hockey, volleyball, and tennis. The boys' gym classes likewise competed in intramural soccer, touch football, basketball, and softball. These sports were played with much enthusiasm and the gains in technique and sportsmanship were extremely valuable.

David Boyd and Gregory Prichard exhibit their skill on the parallel bars.

CLASSES

Each class is a personality composed of individuals. Many of our most lasting attitudes and ambitions are those formed by these individuals with whom we spend so much time. It is these ambitions that will help determine the road we will follow.

Senior Class

The Class of '64 has had a senior year that will long be remembered by these students. Their small number did not hinder class spirit which flourished throughout the year.

In early September, chairmen were appointed to all the senior committees and the seniors were urged to join and support their class committees.

A Senior Advisory Council was made up of representatives from each homeroom. The purpose of this council was to keep the students informed as to the functions of their class. The council also received suggestions from the students as to projects and prospective class privileges.

During the middle of November a powder puff football team was organized. Coach Applegate and several boys from the varsity football team spent many tedious hours teaching these determined girls the arts and techniques of football. In early December the senior girls played the junior girls in a spirited clash of rivalry. The girls chose a homecoming "queen" who was crowned during the half-time festivities. The profits from this event were split between the two classes.

After exams the Class of '64 sponsored a hootenanny in which students and various guests performed. The main purpose of this function was to enlarge the class treasury enabling the seniors to leave the school a nice gift at the end of the year.

The year was highlighted with Senior Day and Senior Assembly, Senior Leadership Day, and the long-awaited Senior Prom which was given by the juniors.

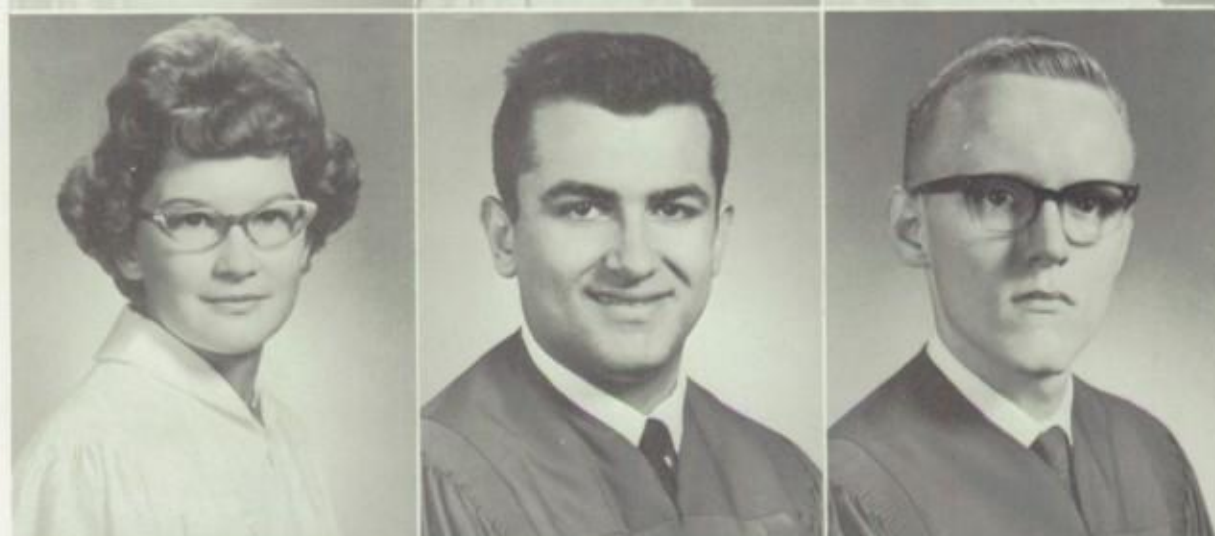

Senior Class officers are: JANICE BUTLER, secretary-treasurer; CAROLINE CARTIN, vice-president; and JIMMIE COLLIE, president.

In Memoriam

Nora Carol Hicks

Nora Carol Hicks, a member of the 1964 Warwick High School Senior Class, died in an automobile accident January 25, 1964.

Whether at home, at school, or at work Carol was an individualist who tried hard at any task that she undertook.

Above all, this outgoing person wanted to reach her main goal—graduation. Carol will be at graduation in the hearts of everyone who knows her.

Ironically, Carol wrote these words shortly before her death:

As on soft black wings
the night flies in

I think of things that are and have been
Can this short life but lead to death
Or but to some distant
Shore of eternal health.
When we die do we cease to be
Or live again by another shining sea.

The answers to these I cannot tell—in fact my love I know only too well.

My heart will always be under your sweet spell!

Junior Class

As always, the prom was the largest project tackled by the Junior Class this year. Work began early in the fall with excellent participation on all of the designated committees. Ideas for the theme and corresponding decorations were so plentiful that there were heated discussions as the time for final decisions approached. Money became the watchword among juniors as they sold Warwick High School note paper and sponsored a semi-formal Christmas dance. An attitude of cooperation, unity, and genuine understanding prevailed among all juniors throughout the year.

Junior participation in the dramatic and literary fields was noteworthy with representation on the Plough, the Earle, and The Warwick. Our juniors were involved in sports, too, and without them there would have been a large gap on our teams. Several juniors received academic awards which demonstrated that our class was mentally as well as physically active. With the arrival of our rings came the realization that we were upperclassmen. How proudly we displayed them to the graduating class as they wished us good luck in our senior year.

Sophomore Class

Now fully familiarized with the school routine, the Sophomore Class eagerly began playing an important role in all phases of school life.

Since it was the responsibility of each class to contribute money to the S.C.A. scholarship fund, they had various projects such as a dance and selling farmer charms. Many afternoons of planning were spent for their successful dance which brought in a big portion of the money.

The sophomores also played an important part in the S.C.A. The class officers were representatives to the senate while homeroom officers were representatives in the house of representatives. The class, as a whole, contributed many ideas which helped the year to be a success.

The sports life for the sophomores was a very active one. Many of their boys were vital participants on the football, basketball, and baseball teams. Seven of their peppiest girls were chosen as Junior Varsity cheerleaders and helped create much enthusiasm at basketball and football games. Also one of their prettiest girls was chosen as a representative on the homecoming court.

In the dramatic and literary fields many students were outstanding. Quite a few sophomores served on The Plough staff thus broadening their knowledge of literary development and becoming proficient in magazine procedures.

The year was a successful one and as it closed, the students began to realize the greater responsibilities they would assume next year as juniors. With their high goals fulfilled, they looked back over the fond memories of their Sophomore Year at Warwick.

The Sophomore Class Officers are: HOLLY VOSE vice-president; VICKIE MOOZA, president; EMMY GIBBONS, secretary-treasurer.

These school spirited sophomores pick us their homecoming flowers.

Their freshman year had finally arrived and all were thankful for having left behind to this year's eight graders the privilege of being Warwick's youngest class. These students had worked hard to fulfill their responsibilities and had managed excellently, with enthusiastic class participation and original ideas.

The Freshman Class was active in all phases of extracurricular activities. Freshmen boys played an important role in J. V. football, basketball, track and baseball. There were even a few who made the ranks of varsity sports. The girls were not far behind with two freshman girls on the J. V. cheering squad and Toni Dedmond as freshman representative on the homecoming court.

The freshmen also took an important part in the S. C. A. with active participation in congress, senate, and the Honor Council. For the first time in quite a while, upperclassmen heard the distinctive voices of eager freshmen as they brought forth fresh and interesting ideas.

Two of the freshmen projects for this year were an annual assembly for the seniors and a big dance to raise money for the S. C. A. scholarship fund. Academic studies and these projects kept the freshmen very busy throughout this year.

As the year drew to an end, the Freshman Class took stock of its accomplishments. The freshmen now feel that they are ready for the experienced level of Sophomore Class.

Freshmen class officers are PETE HAZELWOOD, president; LESLIE STALLING, secretary-treasurer; and STEVE BURNETTE, vice-president.

Eighth Grade

"Here we are, high school at last!" What did this new adventure hold in store for the eighth graders? They had looked forward to the year with great enthusiasm and, maybe, even with a little fear. But it did not take long for the eighth graders to identify themselves as "farmers."

Realizing their obligations, they began to assume their responsibilities with eagerness. Margaret Whitmore was elected as their representative in the homecoming court. Class officers were elected, and soon plans were made for the year's activities. In order to fulfill their annual obligations to the S.C.A. scholarship fund, the eighth graders sponsored a dance.

The first year of their big adventure had unfolded successfully. Having experienced eighth grade, they eagerly looked forward to their freshman year.

Eighth grade class officers are MELINDA GARRETT, president; DONNA YEATTS, vice-president; and MICHAEL LAMBERT, secretary-treasurer.

ACTIVITIES

As we travel down life's highway, some of us will accomplish great things and attain prominence in a wide variety of fields. The experience gained through active participation in scholastic activities will be invaluable.

The S.C.A. Executive Council: JOEY WINN, president; ROGER VAUGHAN, chaplin; SUE NELSON, secretary; ANNE HAZELWOOD, treasurer; BILLY DUNN, vice-president.

S.C.A. Executive Council

The Executive Council was inducted in the spring of 1963 and they began their duties immediately. In the beginning, the Congress meetings were conducted by this new administration. Then voting for class representatives followed. According to the newly amended constitution, the homeroom representatives for the rising eighth through twelfth grades had to be elected by the majority of their respective classes. Candidates for homeroom representatives had to be turned into the S.C.A. Miss Beverly Draucker screened these petitions to be certain each petitioner had at least a "C" average. Then the Executive Council mimeographed the ballots, passed them out, and served on the Board of Elections to count them.

During the summer, the S.C.A. prepared an assembly for the new eighth graders which served to familiarize them with their student government and its functions.

The Executive Council also orientated the eighth graders during homeroom periods concerning the duties and requirements of class officers and homeroom presidents. Once again all were busy in the hustle of elections.

Throughout the year this executive body of the S.C.A. met daily during first period to carry on the work of Warwick's largest organization. They prepared the agenda for the weekly Congress meetings and attempted to inform the students about these meetings through the S.C.A. bulletin. Bi-monthly they chose a deserving student to be V.I.F., Very Important Farmer. They posted this individual's picture and qualifications on the S.C.A. bulletin board. Every month they selected a very outstanding upperclassmen to appear in the Daily Press as Student-of-the-Month for Warwick High School.

Under the watchful and helping eye of Miss Beverly Draucker the Executive Council worked to make the term 1963-64 a successful one at Warwick.

Joey and Billy check with Raymond Michie concerning details of an assembly.

Federation officers MARY PAT TULL, secretary, and PEGGY WINALL, president, check over the S. C. A. Federation scrapbook.

S.C.A. federation

The year 1963-1964 was an active one for the Peninsula S. C. A. Federation. The delegates from the member schools met once a month to carry on business. Exchange days were held at Hampton and Newport News. Being a new school in the area, Kecoughtan was invited to join the Federation at one of the first meetings of the year.

A permanent weeks committee was established this year. Besides recommending various weeks, this committee sets dates and suggests ways of carrying out the weeks. Each school was asked to submit a report to the committee after the week was held. The weeks sponsored by the Federation this year included Christmas Spirit Week, Know Your S. C. A. Week, Americanism Week, and Leadership Training Week.

The precedent set in 1962-1963 of having a community project was again carried out this year. A committee headed by Dorothy Correll of Ferguson planned and gave a Christmas party for the children at the Cerebral Palsy Center in Walter Reed School. The children and workers at the center were delighted, and they invited the Federation delegates to return for future visits.

Other activities accomplished this year included contributing one hundred and twenty-five dollars to the Save the Children Federation. The historian kept a scrapbook of the year's activities, and the Federation submitted a project to the S. C. A. State Convention. Officers this year were: Peggy Winall, president; Bobby Myers, first vice-president; Randy Stevens, second vice-president; Mary Pat Tull, secretary; John Todd, treasurer; Alice Fowler, reporter; Jimmy Boon, parliamentarian; Ann Strong, historian.

The Federation delegates representing Warwick High School were: Billy Dunn, Sue Nelson, Mary Pat Tull, Jimmy Collie, Jo Anne Givens, Joey Winn, Peggy Winall, Rudi Sawallisch, and Anne Hazelwood.

The 1963-64 House of Representatives included: (first row) Phyllis Smoot, Linda Russell, Myra Terry, Kay Andreoli, Pam Rowell, Kathy Hogan, Suzanne LeHew, Pam Saunders, Frances Herring, Anna Markley, Lynn Elliot, (second row) Dorothy Seymore, Kitty Elkins, Bev Baines, Katie Dempsey, Judy Prizio, Jo Saunders, Jo Anne Givens, Linda Graham, Brenda King, Charlene Roulet, Barbara Slifer, Jean Humphrey, Christie Holland, Ann Rollings, Linda Gallagher, Rebecca Morgan, (third row) Roger Vaughan, Billy Dunn, Frankie Freda, Tom

House of Representatives

The House of Representatives was composed of the sixty elected homeroom presidents, the Executive Council, and the club representatives. It was the duty of the House members to attend all Congress meetings and to take back to their respective group the functions and projects of the S.C.A. and to win the support of the student body.

Throughout the year the House and Senate met jointly at the weekly Congress meetings. This body elected delegates to the various S.C.A. conventions and appropriated all S.C.A. expenditures exceeding ten dollars. Congress also elected the members of the Honor Council, sponsored the Second Annual S.C.A. Talent Show, and Christmas Spirit Week.

One of the most memorable projects of the 1963-64 S.C.A. year was the organization and execution of Farmer Day. On this day students were allowed to dress as farmers, and it was the responsibility of the S.C.A. to see that this idea was a success. Of course, Farmer Day was a success and will not be soon forgotten.

For charity projects the S.C.A. collected canned food for the needy and sold Christmas cards for the Society of Crippled Children.

During this year the body of Congress served as a backbone to initiate, co-ordinate, and carry through the school's activities.

Each morning the homeroom presidents read the bulletin and make announcements to their homerooms.

Senate

The Senate was headed by Billy Dunn, S.C.A. vice-president, and composed of all class officers, the chaplain, and the president of the Executive Honor Council. Under the guidance and sponsorship of Miss Beverly Draucker, the Senate met faithfully throughout the year, carrying out its duties as the upper body of Congress. These activities included revision of the aims and objectives, the organization of an evaluation program, the promotion of school spirit through the purchasing of pom-poms, and the granting of advice and consent on all presidential appointments.

It was composed of a cross section of student life and well represented the views of every student level. Through hard work determination, and devotion, the senators made 1963-64 a year of great achievement.

Senate members eagerly unpack Christmas cards to be sold by Congress members.

The Senate listens attentively while Billy presents important business.

The committee heads who made up this year's Cabinet were: Karen Baals, Sabina Evans, Linda Gallagher, Noel Walsh, Jimmy Collie, Steve Taylor, Shep Holladay, Stuart Bateman, Doug Lindsey, Larry Wrenn, Peggy Winall, Mary Pat Tull, Ann McEnerney, Caroline Cartin, Carolyn Lancaster and Sandra Abicht.

S.C.A. Cabinet and Committees

Leadership Training Committee members, Stuart Bateman, Peggy Winall, Mary Pat Tull, and Sharon Buck listen to Jimmy Collie's talk on leadership techniques.

A division of the Executive Branch, the S.C.A. Cabinet consisted of the secretaries of the ten departments. They were appointed by the president on the approval of the Senate. The members of the Cabinet worked together in planning school events and in organizing the activities of the individual departments without which little work could have been done. In the interest of the student body, the Cabinet did much to encourage interest, school spirit, and pride among the students.

Organizing the third annual Leadership Training Clinic was this group's main accomplishment. Under the leadership of co-chairmen Peggy Winall and Mary Pat Tull, a series of sessions open to the student body were held after school for a week. The sessions featured lectures, films, instruction on Parliamentary Procedure, and discussion groups.

The purpose of the Department of Activity Tickets, headed by Sabina Evans and Stuart Bateman, was to assist the administration in selling and distribution of activity tickets. Through the promotion of these tickets, they encouraged support of all school activities, both athletic and otherwise. Although their duties were completed early in the year, this department was a great help to the student body and the office.

The Projects Department handled all S.C.A. projects, both fund-raising and benefit. The committee, headed by Jimmie Collie and Frankie Freda, was extremely successful during the first semester with the CARE Drive and the production of the Second Annual S.C.A. Variety Show. For the Variety Show the department handled auditions, direction, and final production.

Homecoming Week was handled entirely by this department. To the credit of secretaries Linda Gallagher and Shep Holladay, the activities which included voting on the court, an assembly, the sale of gold flowers, and finally, the crowning of the Queen, were evaluated as successful.

The members of this year's Activity Ticket Committee were: Stuart Bateman, Sabina Evans, Robert Deans, Lydia O 'Conner, Cynthia Hines, Jimmie Collie, Larry Prevatte, and Don Kostka.

The Projects Committee members were: Jeannie Albertson, Linda Graham, Sue Nelson, Joey Winn, Janet Nickols, Jimmie Collie, Stuart Bateman, and Hyman Greenbaum.

men Linda Gallagher and Shep Holladay on either side.

This year's Orientation Committee included: Karen Reilly, Patti Phelps, Mary Frances Vaughan, Lydia O'Connor, Sherry Barlow, Debbie Baker, Judy Prizio, Susan Tilson, Carol Lee Barlow, Karen Baals, Linda Graham, Pat O'Neil, Linda Brooks, Bonnie Vandebree, Bonnie Shackelford, Larry Wrenn, Doug Lindsey, Stuart Bateman, and Jimmie Collie.

S.C.A. Committees

Acquainting new students, particularly the eighth graders, with Warwick life was the job of the Orientation Department. The first day of school an assembly was presented, student handbooks were distributed, and the guides were placed in the halls. Throughout the rest of the term, this department, headed by Karen Baals and Larry Wrenn, gave assistance and a feeling of friendship to transfer students arriving at Warwick.

The Department of the Cafeteria was continually helpful in the solution of problems common to the student body and the cafeteria staff. Headed by Carolyn Lancaster and Doug Lindsay, the committee was successful in maintaining a calendar of all school events on one of the bulletin boards, and keeping two of the others attractively decorated throughout the year.

The Audio Visuals Department, headed by Raymond Michie, is better known as the Stage Crew. They handled all the lighting for assemblies, dramatic productions, and concerts. They prepared most of the props used, painted flats, and supplied microphones. They also set up P.A. systems in the cafeteria and library for use in the testing programs.

The Pep Committee was headed by Anne McEnerney and Noel Walsh. Its purpose was to promote and encourage school spirit in all phases of Warwick activity. The department covered the halls with posters before the games and sponsored several pep rallies. They also worked with the Booster's Club to charter buses to some of the distant games and meets. Their efforts helped bring Warwick's school spirit to a great and long awaited peak as this committee did its job as one of the most important departments.

The Department of Social Activities, under the chairmanship of Sandra Abicht and Bobby Burch, was responsible for planning and producing all S.C.A. sponsored recreational and social events. They also offered assistance and advice to other groups sponsoring such events.

The Publicity Committee worked in correlation with almost all other S.C.A. departments. This committee, under the leadership of Caroline Cartin and Steve Taylor, accounted for much of the success of the S.C.A. events. Their posters perpetually advertised the various functions and projects. Through their conscientious publicity, S.C.A. participation rose to a new high.

The Cafeteria Committee this year consisted of Betty Kay Feamster, Paulette Ellingsworth, Doris Wooten, Carolyn Lancaster, Diana Skindalis, and Doug Lindsey.

Stan & Alice

The members of the Audio Visual Trouble Shooting Team were Wayne Schell, Allen Johnson, Mike St. Clair, Pete Gwaltney, Charles Smith, David Melton, Wayne Futrell, James Smith, Jimmy Hazlewood, Henry Sadler, and Ronnie Scott.

Pep Committee members this year were Doug Lindsey, Nancy Rayfield, Diane Meredith, Sandra Bryant, Dorothy Barren, Leslie Stallings, Ann McEnerney, Sue Nelson, Jimmy Hodges, Steve Givens, Elten Mandale, Debby Maberry, Linda Branch, and Charlene Randlet.

Miss Tzina Zwerdling sponsored the Social Committee this year. Its members included Bobby Burch, Janet Nickols, Patti Phelps, Linda Buchanan, Joyce Bohlken, Jeannie Albertson, Jo Saunders, and Ann Gillen.

Steve Taylor and Caroline Cartin, co-chairmen of the Publicity Committee, kneel on the newspaper where they did much work this year. Members of their committee were Pat O'Neill, Jeannie Albertson, Jimmie Collie, Karen Scarborough, Doug Lindsey, Sherry Barlow, Janet Nickols, Noel Walsh, and Cynthia Hines.

Chairman Sherry Barlow presides over a meeting of the Honor Council.

Honor Council

The Honor Council was the judicial branch of the S.C.A. Its purpose was to maintain an honor system and to make every student aware that he was a part of this system. To achieve this, posters were put up during the orientation period, an honor week was held just before exams, and an honor assembly was held.

The Honor Council was made up of three parts. The Executive Honor Council was composed of eleven students, three representatives were elected by the S.C.A. Congress, with the chairman being elected by the representatives themselves. Their purpose was to interview violators of the Honor Code and impress upon them the importance of honor.

The Honor Committee was the second part. It was composed of representatives from each homeroom. They acted as a bond between the Executive Honor Council and the students, explaining the Honor Code to them.

The students made up the third part. It was their duty to respect the Honor Code and to uphold it.

The members of this year's Executive Council were: Joe Saunders, Barbara Craft, Jim McAtamney, Linda Graham, Edith Raine, Judy Chainy, Carol Freda, Sabina Evans, Mary Pat Tull, Colonel Archibald (sponsor), Frankie Freda, and Sherry Barlow.

Ushers

This past year, under the invaluable aid and direction of Mr. Barclay Sheaks, the ushers have played a necessary and important part in all school activities. Their main duty was to maintain order and assist in seating students at the regular weekly assemblies, but they also gave of their time and energy to help at such school-related functions as concerts, plays, P.T.A. meetings, the S.C.A. Variety Show, College Day, and graduation.

Last spring, twenty-seven juniors and seniors were chosen to serve as ushers. They were selected by the Executive Council and the head ushers of last year's staff. In order to be chosen, they had to have above average grades, good character, outstanding leadership qualities, and an out-going personality.

Many other factors entered before the final decision was made, among them appearance, friendliness, tact, and willingness to serve. Each candidate also had to write a paper on why he wanted to be an usher and have at least two teachers recommend him.

The ushers met early in the fall to discuss their duties and decide on policies for the year. At this meeting, they also elected two head ushers, Carolyn Lancaster and Stuart Bateman. It was their duty to see that ushers were on hand at all school functions. This year has been very busy for them, but they served with a great deal of pride and satisfaction.

The 1963-64 Ushers were: Linda Graham, Carol Lee Barlow, Charles Spruil, Noel Walsh, Diane Harris, Carolyn Lancaster, Stuart Bateman, Dell Adams, Mary Pat Tull, JoAnn Givens, Sherry Barlow, Bette Kay Feamster, Pam Saunders, Kay Andreoli, Karen Scarborough, Linda Russell, Diane Leviner, Anne Hazelwood, Peggy Winall, Reggie Tucker, Alice Sampsel, Gail Mathis, Lynn Elliott, Linda Gallagher, Frankie Freda, and Tom Peters.

Mr. Sheaks checks over the list of ushers with Carol Lee Barlow and JoAnne Givens.

The Plough Staff

The Plough Staff began the 1963-64 year with much enthusiasm and excitement, eager for publication of the first issue. As was customary, a teacher outstanding in her work with literature was chosen for the dedication; therefore, Miss Waverly Hundley received this honor early in December.

The staff was almost entirely new, but the lack of experience was compensated for by the enthusiasm they all possessed. Sophomores, juniors, and seniors, under the guidance of Miss Lois Callahan, diligently performed such duties as criticizing, accepting or rejecting, and typing the material submitted by the student body. Finally, illustrations and copy were balanced in a magazine which the staff was proud to distribute.

A new concept was originated in the Plough's winter issue. Each class was given its own section consisting of materials and art work contributed by the class. The arrival of this issue was eagerly anticipated by students, staff, and faculty. Another highlight of the year was the Spring or Senior Issue, in which the senior poem and the senior log were included. Still, the staff did not produce the Plough alone. The student body was essential to the publication, contributing plays, poems, features, short stories, and reviews, as well as illustrations. The students, therefore, prepared their own magazine with the motto "Quality, not Quantity" in mind.

Traditions also played an important part in the publication of the Plough. Traditional decisions, such as color, cover, and contents, had to be made. There were the traditional Senior Edition, the traditional dedication, and the traditional visit to SIPA in the spring.

With the help and co-operation of the students, the staff, and the sponsor, the ideals and objectives of the Plough composed the makings of a highly successful year.

The Earle Staff

This year, school news was effectively presented to the student body by the official Warwick High publication, The Earle. Through the efforts of its twelve member staff and its new sponsor, Mr. William W. Kitchin, the paper was published bi-monthly for the entire school year.

One of the biggest changes in the paper this year was the printing of headlines. Previously, this had been done with printing materials at the school; however, this year they were handled by a local printing concern. Various experiments with front page and editorial page makeups were tried, resulting in fresh approaches to problems of placement. The headlines were also printed differently utilizing a darker type, more appealing to the reader's eye.

The staff this year spent many hours busily scurrying about gathering information on everything from athletics to scholarships. This year, added responsibility rested with the co-editors; stories were checked for style and accuracy solely by them. This was an attempt to make The Earle even more student controlled. However, before press time, the paper was given a final "once over" by Mr. Kitchin.

Journalism class members received "on the job training" by helping with the paper. These students, who will become staff members next year, assisted with the typing and pasting, occasionally even writing articles. The class also put out the annual journalism edition in the spring.

Other special highlights included the Christmas issue and the Senior Edition, the largest paper put out by the staff.

Keen interest in the paper by both students and faculty helped to make it a highly successful year as the staff presented major happenings to the "Farmers."

The Warwick Staff

The 1964 Warwick staff was composed of the talents of a great many people. Many long hours were spent and a great deal of midnight oil was burned in order to prepare the annual for publication.

Peggy Winall, editor-in-chief, proved her executive ability as she assigned work and kept things running smoothly. Ann Rollings' job as picture editor seemed endless as the pictures were taken, identified, alphabetized, or captioned. Sue Nelson also had a big job as copy editor for the copy had to be read, approved, and typed. Of course, selling ads loomed big in the minds of all, for none of this would materialize without money. Dana Lou Whitehead worked faithfully as the advertising editor arranging the advertisement section of the annual and urging the staff to tramp the streets as she herself was doing. Meanwhile, the business manager, Noel Walsh, capably took care of all business and financial correspondence. The five juniors, Pam Rowell, Kathy Scott, Carol Spencer, Betty Wall, and Faye Dickinson, were completely bewildered at first, but they soon learned from the experienced seniors how things were done. Mrs. Carolyn Sanders, as sponsor, worked faithfully with the staff, cheering them on in the face of any temporary discouragement. With her help the new plans and ideas were successfully carried out. Each editor and her assistant worked earnestly and faithfully on her job and the completion of the 1964 WARWICK became a reality.

Dear Marion,

It has really been fun being in the same English class with you this year. It was a lot of hard work, but it was worth it.

Remember Mr. "Wat" and last year when we were in the class together. (Ugh - who can forget!)

Be good and have a nice summer.

Love,

Mr. William Tew directed the Girls' Chorus whose members included: Sharon Dietz, Susan Godwin, Annette West, Nancy Brooks, JoAnn Branscomb, Janet Kauffman, Charlotte Krisel, Cheryl Burnham, Becky Mecouch, Jeannie Zelinsky, Connie McDowell, Emmy Gibbons, Beth Bausell, Vickie Jones, Linda

Simmons, Gloria Longest, Ann Dickinson, Margaret Pollock, Nancy Heath, Ellie Burroughs, Marion Hockaday, Melody Clendenin, Pat Melson, Alice Johnson, Jean Rogers, Sharon Taylor, Becky Ross, Nicki Robbins and Kay Brooks.

Girls' Chorus

Under the direction of Mr. William A. Tew the Warwick High School Girls' Chorus has seen another successful year. As well as performing in the Christmas and spring concerts, the chorus was invited to sing for several civic groups.

Some of the girls' selections which warmed the hearts of many people and brought smiles upon their faces were "Have You Seen A Star" and "The Morning Star On High."

The 1963-64 officers of Girls' Chorus were: Annette West, president; Debbie Dewey, vice-president; Janice Young, secretary-treasurer; and Marion Hockaday, Business manager. The capable guidance of the above officers helped to run a smooth and efficient chorus.

The girls not only sounded melodic but also looked very attractive as they performed in their new baby blue corduroy dresses. After much practice a fine girls' chorus was produced and each girl was rewarded for her hard work by the results.

Male Chorus

The Male Chorus of Warwick High School finished its second year under the able direction of Mr. William Tew. They appeared at the Virginian Restaurant for the Deer Park Baptist Church and also appeared in one of the best Christmas concerts that has been given at Warwick High School for many years. The music which was performed by Male Chorus was a four part harmony which included First Tenor, Second Tenor, Baritone, and Bass. Male Chorus has performed both sacred and secular music. Some of these songs were "Beautiful Savior," "See That Babe," "Down the Open Road," and the Russian "Song of Youth." The formal attire this year for Male Chorus was a white cardigan sweater with a Male Chorus insignia on the right side.

*Looking forward to next year!

The A Cappella Choir members were: Mr. William Tew, director, Annette West, Elsie Carter, Katie Dempsey, Carol Akers, Phylora Feedback, Illene Bedderard, Dell Adams, Betty Wiseman, Ruth Ann Webb, Diana Leviner, Connie Walker, Evelyn Lottier,

A Capella

The A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Mr. William A. Tew, performed in various assemblies, concerts, and programs, throughout the year. Among the highlights of the choir's year was the presentation of The Lowland Sea, the first opera ever performed at Warwick. The traditional Christmas, Mid-winter, and Spring Concerts were held as well as the Christmas and Easter assemblies and a special memorial service for the late President Kennedy.

Community performances constituted other highlights for the year with the choir singing for Newport News Rotary Club and Bayberry Clinic. The Hilton-Golden Age Society and a number of peninsula churches were also visited by A Cappella.

The choir owes Mr. William Tew a vote of thanks for his excellent leadership. With his help, the choir worked on its tone and diction and strove hard to present memorable programs. The result was a highly successful year.

Band

The Warwick High School Grenadier Band and Bagpipe Corps still maintained its status as one of the most prominent high school bands in the area. In the fall the band played at all home football games and several away games. The highlights of the band's football season were the halftime performances, one honoring Veterans Day and another entitled "The George Washington Story."

During this season, the band represented our school successfully at the Oyster Bowl, the Williamsburg Christmas Parade, and several other local parades.

Under the direction of Lyle M. Smith, the concert season proved to be a success; the band performed such selections as "Swinging Slider" in the Christmas Concert, and "Puerto Alegre" and "Quartal Piece" in the Winter Concert. Again, as last year, the band placed many students in the District, All-State, and Workshop Bands climaxing the effort of the individual instrumentalists. In the Annual Apple Blossom Festival held at Winchester, the band was highly regarded as a marching and musical unit and made a favorable impression on the officials and people.

The final concert for the 1963-1964 band was held at Mariners Museum, as the band's graduating seniors were paid the highest tributes of their high school career. Soon afterward, the band made its final appearance when it performed for the graduation exercise.

This year the Maroon Band under the direction of David P. Randlett, played a major role in the school musical program. It performed at most of the J.V. football games, and local parades, and won top prize in the Williamsburg Christmas Parade. Also the Maroon Band showed its worth as a concert band as it successfully performed "The Phantom Regiment" in the Annual Christmas Concert. Throughout the year Mr. Randlett cultivated his young musicians for future service in the Warwick Grenadier Band.

Thus under the guidance of such able teachers, the band program and performances remained an outstanding contribution to school life.

Resplendent in their colorful uniforms, Richard Parker, Robert Parker, and Steve Givens were the drum majors respectively of the Maroon Band, the Grenadier Band, and the Bagpipe Corps.

The Spanish Club members were: Mrs. Walsh (sponsor), Lynn Elliott, Gerald Peddicord, Jo Ann Givens, Carole Lee Barlow, Barbara Elliott, Rudi Sawallisch, Bobby Tankard, Vickie Mooza, Dennis George, Sandra Humphries, Terry Corbin, Harry Holland, and Betty Jo Suddith.

Clubs

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Walsh the Spanish Club worked on several noteworthy projects this year. At Christmas the members helped decorate the bulletin board in the business hall. They attended the annual Spanish Christmas party as guests of the Newport News Spanish Club. During second semester the club held a Spanish dinner followed by a program which included an interesting speaker.

The Teen CARE had a very successful year. A book sale was held as a money-making project. During November they decorated the bulletin board in the library. At Christmas the club took cookies, fudge, and other goodies to Patrick Henry Hospital, and then Christmas caroled for the patients afterwards. Other projects included a carwash, an auction, and the formation of a Teen CARE week.

The Science and Math Club had several speakers and films this year. Mr. William Sleeman helped them begin by giving a program about paragliders. Mr. Tommy Lawford lectured concerning lasers, and another program was given by Dr. Dorothy Gifford. This year the club allowed its members the use of the school's lab facilities to work on their own projects.

The Future Nurses Club was very busy this past year taking trips to several school of nursing and hospitals. Their two main projects were a trip to Patrick Henry Hospital and the collection of newspapers for the Peninsula Association of Retarded Children.

The Tri-Hi-Y began working early this year by participating in the orientation program. They painted permanent room indicators in the form of maroon and gold "W"'s on the walls and gave welcoming name tags to the eighth graders. "Warwick Hi" pennants were sold to promote school spirit. Other projects included a Thanksgiving basket for a needy family, collecting sheets for cancer patients, an assembly, and financing the schooling of an Arab boy for a year as a world service project. Half of the club attended the District Conference at Granby High School in November, and two delegates went to Model General Assembly in April.

The Hi-Y sponsored dances and sold candy to raise money for its projects. The biggest project was planting new shrubs around the flagpole and placing two plows in front of the school as a symbol of the school's name. The Hi-Y donated money to the A. F. S. to help bring another foreign exchange student to Warwick. The club sent two delegates, a senator and a representative, to the Virginia Model General Assembly which is an annual meeting held in Richmond sponsored by the Young Men's Christian Association. This summer, delegates will be sent to Blue Ridge for training the officers.

The Warwick High Amateur Radio Club had another successful year in the promotion of amateur radio and electronics. Club members have visited the local radio station, participated in hidden transmitter hunts, and encouraged others to obtain their operator's permits. They also strove to get the school radio station, W4WVX on the air.

Members of this year's Science and Math Club were: Larry Farris, Boyce Lavender, Mr. Kennedy (sponsor), Hyman Greenbaum, John Allen, George Speake, Joe Phillips, John Gallagher, Bill Cunningham, Carlton Morgan, and Mr. MacNeil (sponsor).

In the front row are Future Nurses Club officers Karen Scarborough, vice-president; Beverly Baynes, secretary; Sherry Barlow, president; Brenda Smith, treasurer; Anna Markley, historian. Other members include Careen Lyons, Carol Gough, Pam Stetson, Marie Smithwick, Betsy Carter, Peggy Winall, Linda Buchanan, and Linda Conner.

This year's Tri-Hi-Y members were Marie Shetenhelm, Star Merony, Linda Graham, Marilyn Massey, Key Verser, Sandy Merrill, Miss Jane Garrett (sponsor), Linda Russell, Nancy Hopkins, Susan Vick, Pat Banks, Lynn Elliott, Betty Jo Suddith, Barbara Elliott, and Pam Mallory.

The 1963-64 Hi-Y members were Larry Brooks, David Scoggins, Jimmy Hodges, Eddie Shelton, Larry Farris, Reggie Tucker, Steve Taylor, Lynn Bloomer, Gray Stevens, Ronnie Henson, Ronnie Rodgers and Mr. Frank Hardison (sponsor).

Clubs

This year marked the organization of Warwick's Monogram Club. Under the leadership of Mr. Quesenberry this club was made up of all the boys who had received a letter for their participation in any varsity sport. The club's chief projects this year were selling football and basketball programs at these sports events. The programs were organized and published by the Warwick Booster's Club, an adult group of staunch supporters and "Farmer" fans.

The Bridge Club was organized in September, 1963, with Mr. D'Amelio and Mrs. Thompson as co-sponsors. The purposes of this club were to learn how to play contract bridge, to provide fellowship, and to provide future enjoyment at home or with others.

This year the Warwick High Debate Team, rebuilt with the influx of new blood, retained only one member from the past year's team. With the aid of two enthusiastic sponsors, Miss Hundley and Mrs. Rhyne, the team studied the topic of medicare and improved its techniques, in preparation for the spring season.

This year at Warwick brought the organization of the Safe-Teens. This group of safety-conscious teenagers visited a local radiostation where they taped safety slogans to be broadcast on-the air. During the year they visited the police station and also saw films shown by a police department representative. These teenagers together with their sponsor, Miss Petty, accomplished many worthwhile projects.

Under the leadership of its president, Bobby Tankard, the Chess Club forged ahead in several areas. An all-out poster campaign brought in a new high in membership and the treasury swelled. The club continued to fight for letters by calling itself Peninsula Chess Clinic.

The Future Homemakers of America had a very full season of activities this year. The term began with a fall rally at Thorpe Junior High. On Daddy-Date Night the girls brought their fathers as dates to a dinner at the school. The spring rally this year was held at Warwick and this eventful year was climaxed with the annual picnic.

During the 1963-64 term the individual French Clubs have been active in furthering the French student's knowledge of the French language and customs. Several interesting programs were planned and presented by the students on the various program committees. Much planning and hard work made the annual French Club outing enjoyable to all who attended.

The Warwick High Chapter of the Future Teachers of America played an active part at Warwick High in the school year 1963-64 under the sponsorship of Mrs. Adelaide Carson. The girls led the club forward by observing National Education Week in November and Teaching Career Month, in April, as well as presenting informative programs once a month in order to give each member an insight into the teaching profession. They also sent delegates to the F. T. A. of V. E. A. Convention in Richmond.

Mike Chesson makes a point as the Debate Team members listen intently. They are Miss Hundley (sponsor), John Allen, Adelyn Savage, Everett Hogg, Tommy Woodey, and Lance Wood.

Members of the new Safe-Teen Club were: Charles Stokes, Imogene Byrd, Louetta Haughton, Pat Baugh, Leslie Fiester, Roscoe Nichlas, Jr., Mark Hutson, and Miss Petty (sponsor).

Rudi explains his move to Chess Club members Mike Chesson, Charles Spruill, Bobby Tankard, and Doug Lindsey. Looking on are the sponsors Mrs. Griffin and Miss Dvorak.

Mrs. Grose sponsored this year's F. H. A. The officers were Martha Miller, Nicki Hume, Debbie Grubbs, Debbie Butler, Linda Cassada, and Linda Polick.

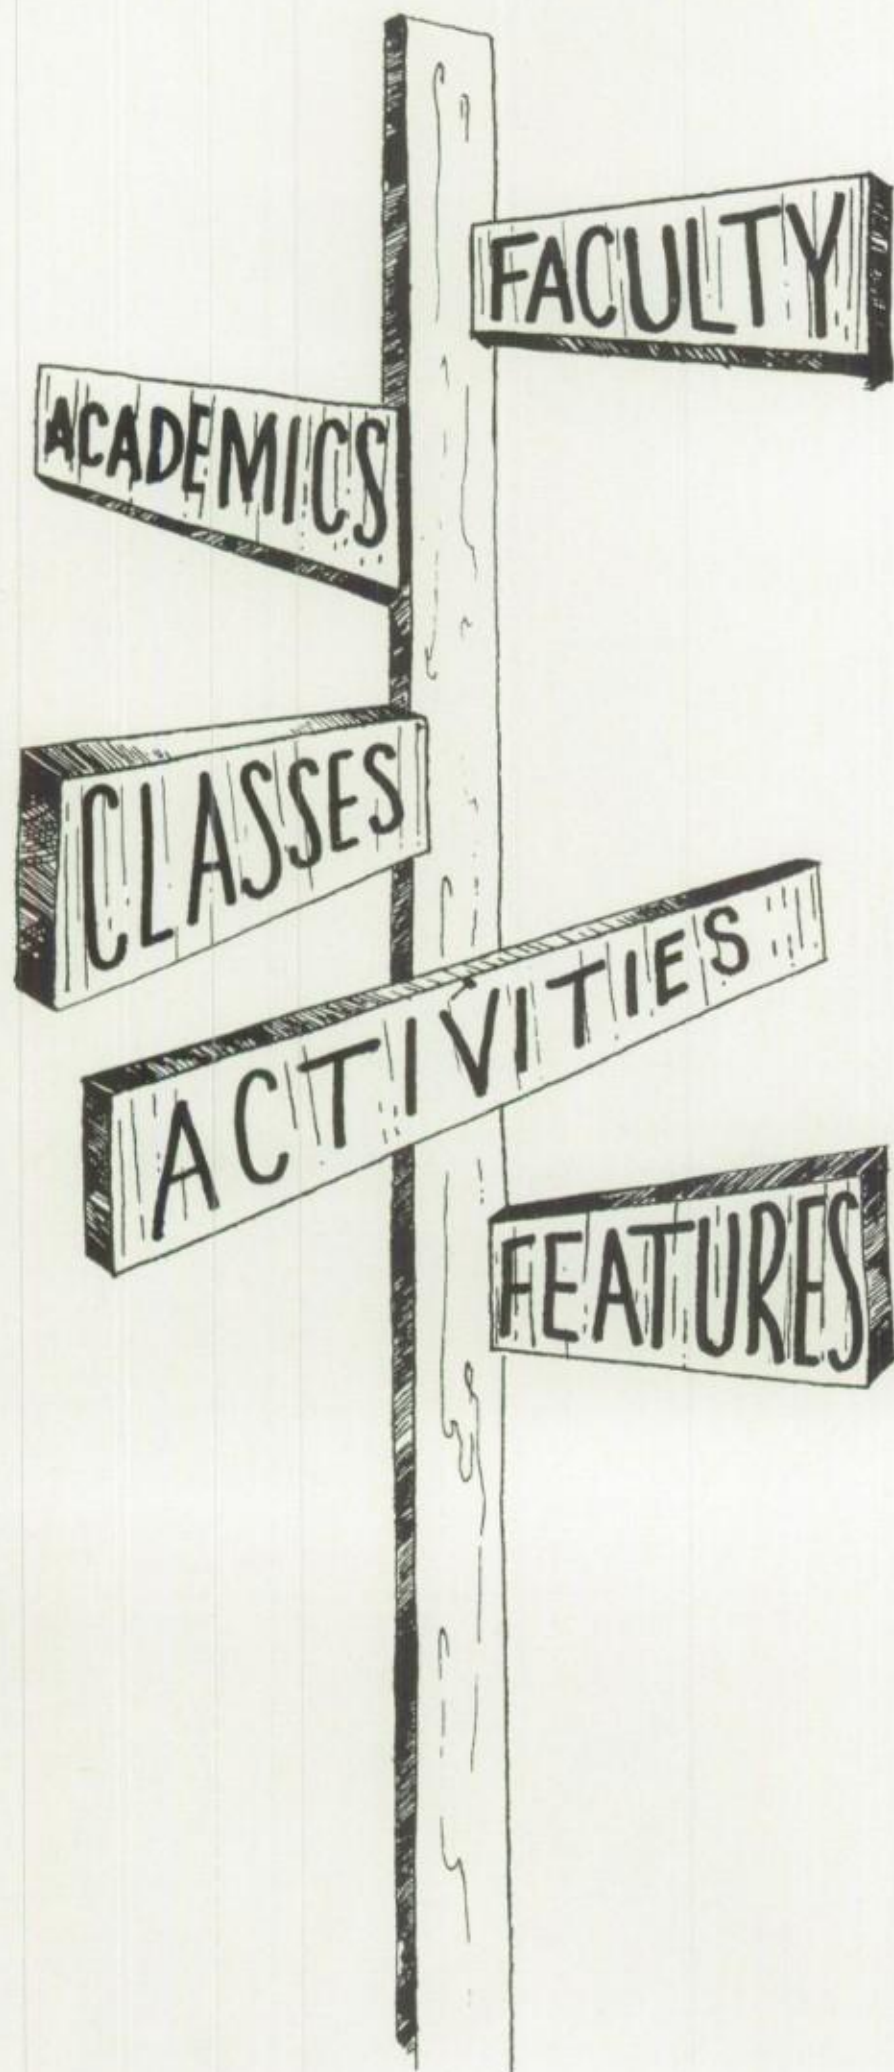

The French Interclub Council members were: Linda Gallagher, Paige Traynor, Frankie Freda, Joanne Branscomb, Brenda Winall, Barbara Nichols, and Bill Cunningham.

FEATURES

The road is long and often difficult. In these pages, we commend those students who are already conquering these obstacles of life. They and the events and honorary societies in which they participate are proudly shown in the following pages.

The 1963-64 Homecoming Court: Margaret Whitmore, eighth grade; Linda Caffee, sophomore; Mary Margaret Plummer, junior; Terry Hughes, senior; Noel Walsh, senior; Sue Nelson, senior; Elsie Carter, senior; Judy Anderson, junior; Toni Dedmond, freshman.

Homecoming 1963-64

Homecoming 1963-64 was accompanied by the usual last minute flurry of plans and excitement. Although the actual date was October eleventh, committee co-chairmen, Linda Gallagher and Shep Holladay, under the supervision of Mrs. Conway, started work in early September. Their committee, which numbered about thirty-five, spent many afternoons counting votes, rehearsing songs and completing other arrangements.

The traditional pep rally was held Thursday night before the game. A Norview player was burned in effigy and the varsity football squad was honored with cheers from the J.V. and Varsity cheerleaders.

Yellow Chrysanthemums with maroon "W's" were sold for two weeks prior to the game and also on the night of the game.

An original assembly written and produced by Suzanne Dunaway and Sharon Buck, under the guidance of Mrs. Waters and Miss Andrews, was presented on Friday morning. It was based on the ever-popular hootenanny and displayed such school talent as "Peter, Paul and Craig."

For the second year in a row it was a bright clear evening for the game. Unfortunately, the speaker system did not work, but with the use of a megaphone our foreign exchange student, Rudi Sawallisch, announced the queen.

Elsie Carter was crowned by the football captain, Bill Kunze. The Farmers' defeats wrought by Norview didn't dampen spirits as everyone enjoyed the dance sponsored by the S.C.A. in the cafeteria. The queen and her court were presented again at the dance. The week-end brought about a perfect end to the hard work produced by the entire Homecoming committee which was appreciated by all students.

Warwick's own "Peter, Paul, and Mary" were a smash hit at the homecoming assembly.

A.F.S.

The Warwick Chapter of the American Field Service began its work for the school year of 1963-64 early last summer when the club was host to a group of foreign students. The members assured these students who were touring the United States an enjoyable time during their brief stay on the peninsula.

In August the A.F.S. members went to Patrick Henry Airport to greet a very important person. This was Rudiger Sawallisch, Warwick's foreign exchange student from Kiel, Germany.

This year Rudiger lived with his American brother, a Warwick senior named Doug Lindsay. When school began everyone met "Rudi" and looked forward to talking to him. In no time Rudi was one of the most popular students in the school. Throughout the year Rudi participated in a variety of school activities. He was a delegate to the Peninsula S.C.A. Federation and the S.C.A. District Convention. He was a member of the Key Club, the Chess Club, and the Senior Cheerleaders for the Junior-Senior Powder-Puff Football Game.

During the year the A.F.S. members once again worked hard trying to reach a financial goal of one thousand dollars in order for Warwick to have another foreign student for 1964-65. A.F.S. Bonds were sold to raise this money. The bonds bore red, black, and gold ribbons signifying the colors of the German flag. An assembly was given entitled "We Love you, Rudi" which kicked off this sales campaign. Other projects were Twerp Week, a student-faculty basketball game, and a dance. The diligent work of this organization was very evident at Warwick High and throughout the community.

A.F.S. president Sandra Abicht explains the A.F.S. bond to Rudi, our foreign exchange student.

American Field Service members this year were: (first row) Betty Jo Suddith, Linda Russell, Doug Lindsey, Sandra Abicht, Rudi Sawallisch, Sherry Barlow, Sheri Bahr, Miss Jane Garrett, (second row) Bonnie Vandebree, Linda Buchanan, Jeanie Albertson, Peggy Roberts, Sharon Dietz, Betty Wall, Janet Burgess, Carol Lee Barlow, Jo Anne Givens, Eunice Battaile, Mary Margaret Plummer, Linda Graham, (third row) John Allen, George Speake, Martha O'Brien, Mike Chesson, Ricki Wilkinson, Everett Hogg, Lynn Elliot, Ronnie Phillips, Sue Willis, and Kay Verser.

National Honor Society officers were HYMAN GREENBAUM, vice-president; CAROLYN LANCASTER, secretary; and BOBBY BURCH, president.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society began its third year at Warwick High School with much enthusiasm on the part of its members. These students had been selected on the basis of scholarship, service, leadership, and character in the spring of the previous year.

A multitude of projects kept the group active throughout the year. A bulletin board committee was formed, and during February Sherry Barlow and Sharon Buck, co-chairmen, decorated various bulletin boards in the school. This year a new system of accomplishing work was instituted. The club was split into two committees, the projects committee, headed by Bill Kunze, and the program committee, headed by Judy Rex. Each member participated on a committee.

This year's officers were Bobby Burch, president; Hyman Greenbaum, vice-president; and Carolyn Lancaster, secretary.

New members were chosen during an assembly in March and were made up of seniors and juniors with a high scholastic standing. The club remained in good standing this year and contributed much to the activities of the school.

National Honor Society officers were HYMAN GREENBAUM, vice-president; CAROLYN LANCASTER, secretary; and BOBBY BURCH, president.

Members of this year's National Honor Society were: Bobby Burch, Bill Kunze, Hyman Greenbaum, Sue Nelson, Peggy Winall, Sandra Abicht, Anne Hazelwood, Sherry Barlow, Janet Overstreet, Judy Rex, Carolyn Lancaster, and Sharon Buck.

Members of the 1963-64 Key Club were: Rudi Sawallisch, Bobby Tankard, Frank Bobbitt, Roger Vaughan, Charles Spruill, Tom Peters, Bill Cunningham, Mr. James Starboard, sponsor, Wayne Webb, Jimmie Collie, Melvin Reynolds, Bobby Burch, Freddie Meeks, Larry Wrenn, Trent Taylor, Shep Holladay, Rickey Wilkinson, Joey Winn, Carlton Morgan, C.M. Pritchard, Dennis George, Eddie Bachman, Marty Bonnett, Frankie Freda, Donnie Wright, Randy Tanner, Hyman Greenbaum, and Steve Taylor.

Key Club

The Key Club of Warwick High School is a service organization sponsored by the Warwick Kiwanis Club and composed of male students from the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades having high "C" averages or better and showing qualities of leadership.

The work of this year's club began last summer when the members helped distribute the new textbooks to the classrooms. They also aided the Hi-Y in cleaning the school grounds.

In the community, the Key Club sponsored a safe-driving display placed near a local highway, and provided ushers for the annual Kiwanis Travelogue programs.

The main objective for the year was the presentation of the $300.00 Richard T. Yates Memorial Scholarship and the Senior Citizenship Award.

Their social functions included several dances and the annual Christmas Banquet. The club members also attended the Capital District Key Club Convention held in Richmond during March.

Key Club officers were: BILLY DUNN, vice-president; WARREN SWEAT, chaplain; DONNIE WRIGHT, sergeant at arms; BILL CUNNINGHAM, president; HYMAN GREENBAUM, corresponding secretary; JIMMY COLLIE, treasurer; BOBBY BURCH, recording secretary.

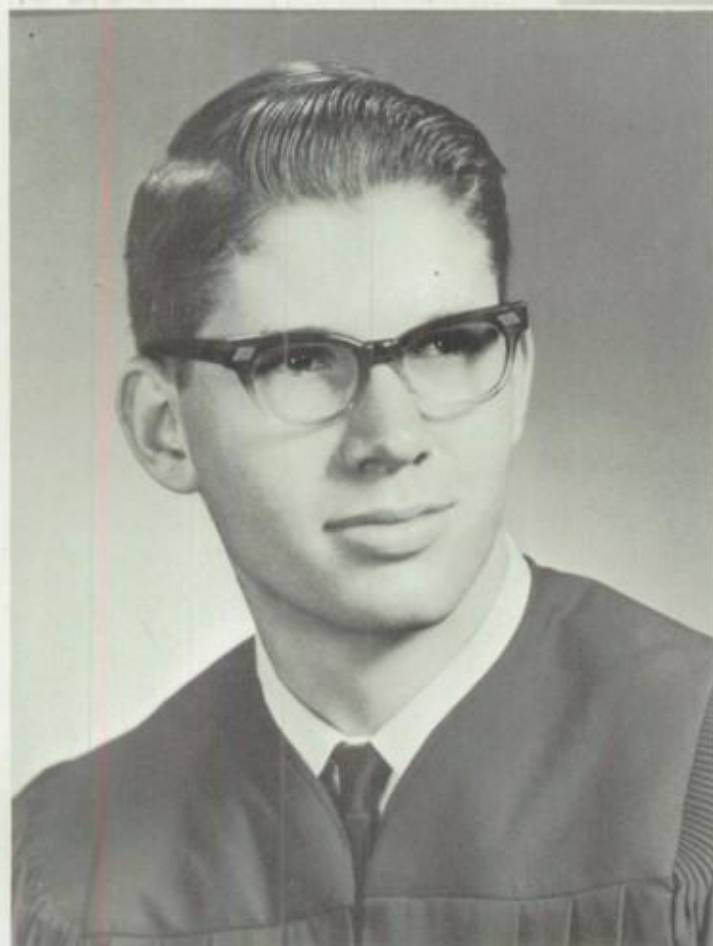

Senior

A conscientious and efficient worker, Nancy Sherman Barlow, has been an outstanding member of her class throughout high school. Her quick acceptance of responsibility has earned her positions in S. C. A. Congress, in the Senate, and in the Honor Council as chairman. Well aware of Sherry's qualities of leadership and intelligence, her classmates have chosen her chairman of the Senior Motto Committee, president of her homeroom, treasurer of the American Field Service, and president of the Future Nurses of America.

In addition, Sherry also possesses a keen interest in nursing and spends much of her free time as a candy-striper at Riverside Hospital. Her enthusiasm for this field, however, has not dulled her interest in music for she has served for several years as assistant organist at her church and as an active member of her church choir.

Above all, Sherry is a serious student and has achieved recognition through her membership in the National Honor Society. She has always studied diligently, and it is easy to understand why she was chosen "Most Intellectual" in the senior class. Needless to say, it is quite evident that this brilliant girl will have a successful future regardless of the path she may choose.

Hyman Andrew Greenbaum, to whom the title "Most Intellectual" was given, is truly an intellectual personality. Hyman was a member of the National Honor Society for two years and this year served as vice-president. He was also a member of the Key Club for the same length of time and held the office of corresponding secretary this year.

Latin, one of Hyman's many interests, brought him two honorable mentions in the State Latin Tournament during his sophomore and junior years.

Hyman was also active in class functions as chairman of the Poem Committee. In the Senior and Junior class Powder-Puff Football game Hyman was one of the beautiful senior homecoming court. Hyman made a name for himself in the literary field with his subtle and original sense of humor. On the Plough Staff Hyman served as Poetry Editor. He was also a member of Quill and Scroll Literary Honor Society.

Not to be excluded was Hyman's greatest interest, the Math and Science Club of which he has been a member two years and president his senior year.

Hyman's future is sure to be successful with his many talents and abilities.

Peggy Jean Winall, a devoted worker and intense student, has promoted school spirit as a varsity cheerleader her junior and senior years and supported the student co-operative association as a homeroom representative her freshman through senior years. She has also shown outstanding leadership as a representative at Girls' State, delegate to S. C. A. State Convention, and President of the Peninsula Federation this year.

Peggy has also shown her ingenuity in the literary field as an assistant on the annual staff her junior year and as editor her senior year. As a member of the staff, she attended the Southern Inter-Scholastic Press Association in 1963.

Peggy is a staunch supporter of her class and worked as co-chairman of the prom decorating committee her junior year and was in charge of the Senior Assembly.

Peggy plans a career in nursing and has been headed in that direction as a member of Future Nurses of America for the past three years. She has been accepted and is planning to study at the Medical College of Virginia.

Leaders

Robert Hutcherson Burch earned the title of Senior Leader by his active participation in numerous phases of school life. Because of his wide interests and abilities, he received responsibilities as a homeroom officer, a member of the SCA Congress, a member of the SCA Cabinet, and chairman of the Social Committee.

Due to his excellent scholastic record, Bobby qualified for membership in the National Honor Society and served as president in his senior year. An active member of the Key Club, he also served as an officer for two years and was a delegate to the International Key Club Convention.

His versatility and many talents place Bobby on the Senior Day and SCA Elections Committees, and the golf team. He also won the honor of serving as queen of the Homecoming court of the Powder Puff Football Game.

When not participating in his many other school activities, Bobby could be found pursuing his interest in music. He was an active member of the Grenadier Band, and attended the All-State Band for two consecutive years. He also devoted his spare time to his church choir and to the Boy Scouts. With all these assets, Bobby will doubtlessly have a successful future.

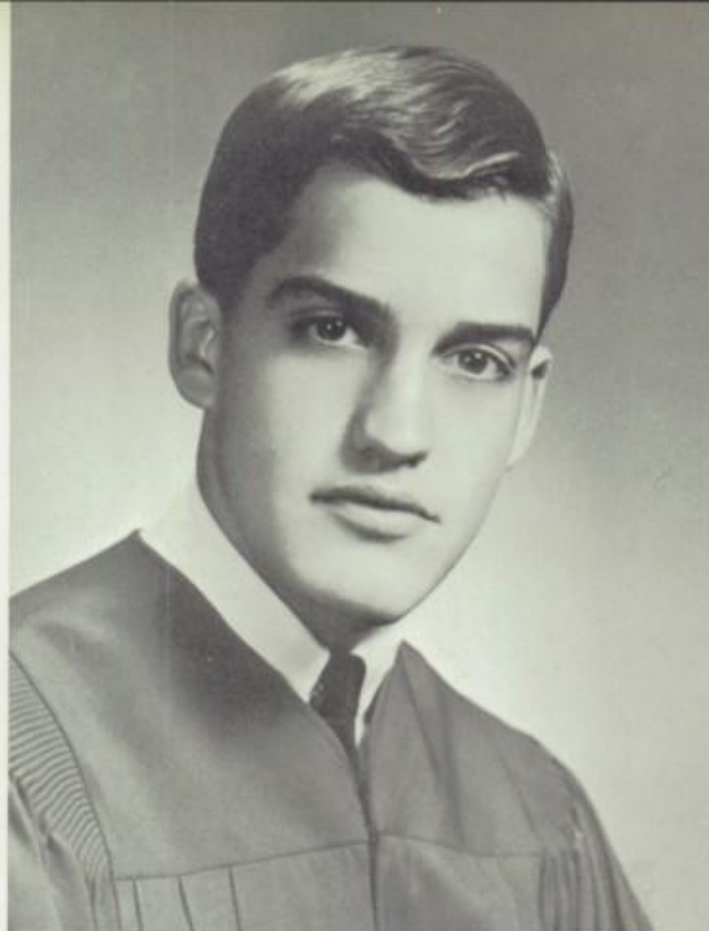

Anne Greer Hazelwood, known to her classmates as a cheerful and interesting personality, has long been active in the student governing clubs at Warwick. Being chosen as a Senior Leader is the final touch to a real high school life of leading. Anne has been editor of the Earle for two years, a class officer her sophomore and junior years, and S. C. A. officer her senior year.

Anne's outstanding personality has also led her to represent Warwick as a delegate to S. C. A. District Convention, S. C. A. State Convention, S. C. A. Federation, and Youth Forum.

With all these extra-curricular activities Anne has also managed to maintain excellent grades which enabled her to participate in two honorary societies, Quill and Scroll and the National Honor Society. For her work on the Earle Anne was a delegate to the Southern Interscholastic Press Association and in connection with Quill and Scroll she is chairman of their weekly program "We The Young People." Also in the line of journalism Anne works part time as a reporter on the Teen Herald and on vacations and Saturdays as part of the staff of the Times Herald daily newspaper.

As a junior and senior Anne gave her support on the decorations, finance, and refreshments committees for the prom and also this year worked on the Senior Assembly.

With so many contributions in the field of journalism, her desire to go into the literary field is well understood.

William Birch Kunze was probably best known for his active participation in sports which earned him the title of "Most Athletic." He played on both the junior varsity and varsity football teams and served as captain of varsity this year.

Maintaining an excellent scholastic record, Bill was a member of the National Honor Society, where he served as chairman of the projects committee. He exhibited a full sense of responsibility carrying out plans and programs in a manner that all students would do well to imitate. Bill was also an active participant in the Key Club.

His versatility and ability to get things done placed Bill in the position of Senior Leader, and promised that he will have a worth-while future.

The officers of Quill and Scroll this year were: Katie Dempsey, Noel Walsh, Anne Hazelwood, Sue Nelson, Larry Wrenn, Mr. Kitchin, Sponsor, Karen Baals.

Quill and Scroll

Active, interested, honored, these words adequately describe the 1963-64 Ruby Altizer Chapter of Quill and Scroll, an International Honor Society of High School Journalists. With the experienced advice of Mr. William Kitchin, serving in the capacity of sponsor, this society of young journalists worked on various worthwhile projects.

During October the Quill and Scroll presented an assembly to climax the observance of National Newspaper Week. The purpose of this assembly was to inform the student body of the aims and objectives of the Quill and Scroll and the functions of the newspaper, annual, and literary magazine staffs. It also emphasized the importance of the daily newspaper in our lives.

Quill and Scroll presented the weekly radio program, "We, the Young People," over WGH radio station. Co-chairmen of this annual project were Karen Baals and Anne Hazelwood. Through their enthusiastic efforts this program proved very interesting and beneficial to a wide range of listeners.

Another outstanding undertaking of the Quill and Scroll was assisting students of Ferguson High School in obtaining a charter and establishing a chapter of their own.

A banquet was held at Vic Zodda's for the induction of new members during the month of December. The program for this occasion consisted of a guest speaker and the formal ceremony of induction. The incoming members were presented with Quill and Scroll pins and membership cards.

Thespians

Chapter 394 of the National Thespian Society is only three years old, but it has already taken its place among the important extracurricular activities offered at Warwick. Beginning the year with a large membership, the club grew after inductions followed both plays.

This year the fall play was My Three Angels, an unusual comedy set in French Guiana. For the spring play the Thespians did another comedy, Mrs. McThing. This play was a Warwick "first," since it had two complete sets.

The Thespians put on an assembly program and attended other drama productions in the community among their activities this year. The club amended their constitution to say that the Thespian of the year must be a senior. They also gave certificates of merit to an outstanding Thespian from each class.

Thespians for this year were: Pete Gwaltney, Jim Cook, Linda Jo Thomasson, Betty Kay Feamster, Diane LeGrandge, Linda Brooks, sponsor Miss Dietz, Linda Gallagher, Nickie Robins, Henry Mecredy, Steve Graybill, Raymond Michie, Cynthia Hines, Larry Wrenn, Deanna Taylor, Vicki Mooza, Gloria Taton, Pam Rowell, Adelyn Savage, Susan Nixon, and Susan Tilson.

Special Events

Straw hats, checked shirts, and patched dungarees, or hooped skirts with ruffled blouses, and pigtails were eagerly sported by Warwick High School students as they lived up to their nickname on Farmer Day. The plan was passed by the S. C. A. Congress, and the day was held in the fall with the students and several teachers taking part.

Another new event at Warwick this year was a hootenanny. Staged in late winter and sponsored by the senior class, students presented their own talent in original and folk songs.

The Second Annual Talent Show took place in December. Students from all grades presented skits, dramatic readings, dances, and musical numbers. The success of the show guaranteed that it will become a Warwick tradition.

The Drama Department presented several noteworthy productions this year. The first play, My Three Angels, featured three convicts who took over the control of a household and turned it into comical chaos.

The "Robert Burns Concert" highlighted this season of the Grenadier Band and Bagpipe Corps. The musical tribute to the famous Scottish poet was presented in February under the direction of Mr. Lyle M. Smith.

The Music Department spent much time and energy carefully planning for the opera "The Lowland Sea" which they presented in the spring. The result of their efforts was a successful climax of the year.

Two convicts from My Three Angels try to convince their hostess they're not really bad.

The woodwin section played their best at the winter concert.

Cheerleaders Ann Rollings, Anne McEnemey, Mary Pat Tull, and Sue Nelson turned out as the Beatles at one of our pep assemblies.

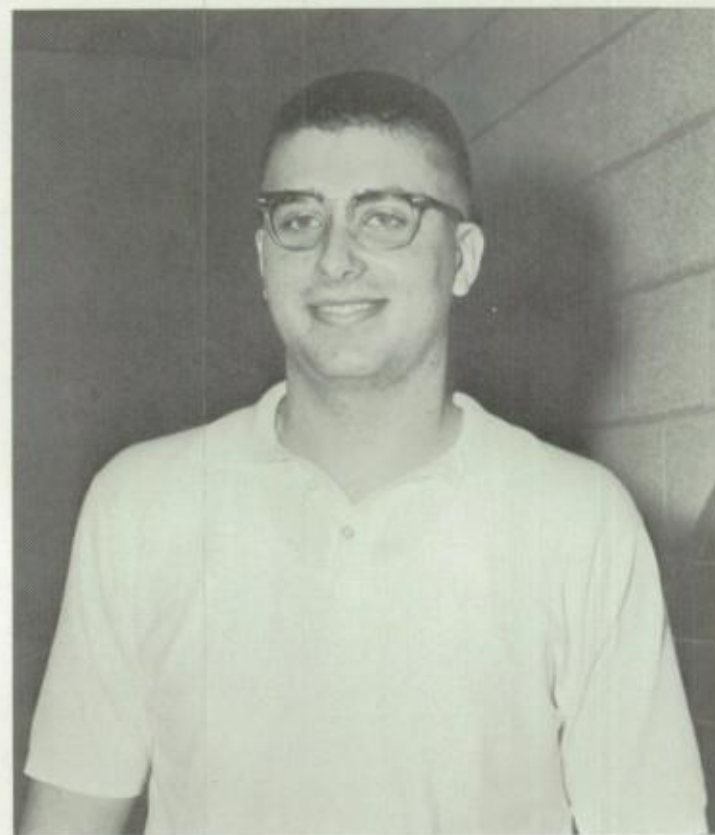

Larry Prevatte, Anne Hazelwood, and Bill Cunningham were three of the scholarship winners at Warwick this year. It was estimated at the time of this picture that there would be at least fifteen additional recipients by the end of the year.

Peggy Winall received the D. A. R. award.

Special Awards

John Sciortino was a National Merit Scholarship finalist this year.

CLASS SONG

"I May Never Pass This Way Again"

I'll give my hand to those who cannot see
 The sunrise or the falling rain.
 I'll sing my song to cheer the weary along,
 For I may never pass this way again.
 I'll share my faith with every troubled heart
 So I shall not have lived in vain.
 I'll give my hand, I'll sing my song,
 I'll share my faith because I know
 That the time is now to fulfill each vow,
 For I may never pass this way again.

Varsity Football

The problems faced by the 1963 Warwick High School coaching Staff were not easily solved. The major one which hampered the team continuously through the season was the lack of experienced players. The team was composed of only three seniors from a roster of forty players. In Coach Snow's own words, "Experience can make the difference between a three yard gain and a ten yard gain." Size was another factor which influenced the team's record. Warwick's starting line averaged only one hundred and seventy pounds while the majority of the team's averaged two hundred pounds or more. The Farmer back-field was also comparatively small. This lack of size did not hamper the players for long; their intense spirit compensated for the deficit.

The Farmers began their season with an away game at Oscar Smith. The Smith "Tigers" handed the Farmers their first defeat. As far as the statistics for that game were concerned, the Farmers fared better but were outscored due to costly mistakes and inexperience.

The homecoming game with Norview appeared to have a happy ending as the Farmers left the field at the half with a 9-6 advantage. Norview had other plans for the game's outcome; they scored thirteen additional points in the second half to win a hard-fought 19-15 victory.

Despite a previous record of 0-9-0, the Warwick football team, with overwhelming spirit and an intense desire to win, met Ferguson, their closest rivals. A capacity crowd of more than four thousand was brought to its feet several times as the Farmers placed before them their best efforts of the season. This final game was an experience which will not soon be forgotten as the Farmers won 13-6 over the Mariners, making it a well-fought season of growth and team effort.

"And this is a football, F-O-O-T-B-A-L-L," says Coach Snow to Coaches Quesenberry, Secules, and Applegate.

Varsity Cheerleaders

Early in the summer Warwick High School's varsity cheerleaders eagerly began to practice twice a week. During August, they attended the Annual Varsity Review hosted by the cheerleaders of Granby High School. At this convention all the cheerleaders in the Eastern District exchanged chants and yells.

In addition to leading yells at all the football and basketball games, the cheerleaders formally welcomed the new students on Orientation Day and presented two pep rallies and a special assembly. The first pep rally served to familiarize the student body with several new cheers and review the old ones. Another pep rally was presented during basketball season for the purpose of arousing enthusiasm and school spirit. During School Spirit Week, the varsity cheerleaders amused the students in a pep assembly with antics of such characters as Hiram R. Hillbilly, St. Peter, and the Devil.

The cheerleaders assisted the Monogram Club in the sale of Warwick High School Activity Calendars for the Boosters' Club.

On March fourteenth the girls had the privilege of attending the N.C.A.A. Basketball tournament in Raleigh, North Carolina. This trip was financed by the Boosters' Club. This concluded a memorable year.

Three juniors on the Varsity cheering squad this year are Anne McEnemey, Mary Pat Tull, and Faye Dickinson.

Seniors on the Varsity Cheering Squad were: Donna Pinkston, Pam Saunders, Peggy Winall, Suzanne LeHew, Ann Rollings and Sue Nelson.

Donna Pinkston—"My head feels like a ripe tomato!"
 Faye Dickinson—"What should I take for relief?"
 Pam Saunders—"You don't say? Does it really work?"
 Peggy Winall—"Hey, I think I'll try some!"
 Mary Pat Tull—"That's supposed to bring relief??"
 Ann Rollings—"I felt it hit bottom!"
 Ann McEnemey—"I think it's working!"
 Suzanne LeHew—"It's gone! My headache's gone!!!"

J.V. Cheerleaders

"Victory, victory is our cry!" was shouted by the junior varsity cheerleaders as the lively junior varsity teams went into action. Much credit for the enthusiasm and school spirit can be given to this group.

It was an honor to represent Warwick High as a junior varsity cheerleader. Also, the cheerleaders enjoyed meeting their opponents.

The squad consisted of one junior, seven sophomores, and one freshman. The girls promoted good sportsmanship and encouraged the junior varsity teams.

Miss Anne Griffith, faculty sponsor, guided the junior varsity cheerleaders through a rewarding year. The girls are looking forward to the sports at Warwick High next year.

Lonce, Larry Ammons, Glenn Reeves, Steve Spriggs, David Hickman, Jack Howard, Robert Pelletier, John Stainback, and Coach Hasinger.

J.V. football

Although young and inexperienced, the junior varsity football team fought hard to win and showed much enthusiasm as well as promising ability. During the first four games, the team met defeat at the hands of Hampton, Kecoughtan, Newport News, and Ferguson, despite an overwhelming desire to win. This same "urge to win" led the team to a comeback in the York game with a 20-0 victory. It looked as if Warwick would once more be victorious; however, the last game with Newport News found Newport News on the winning side.

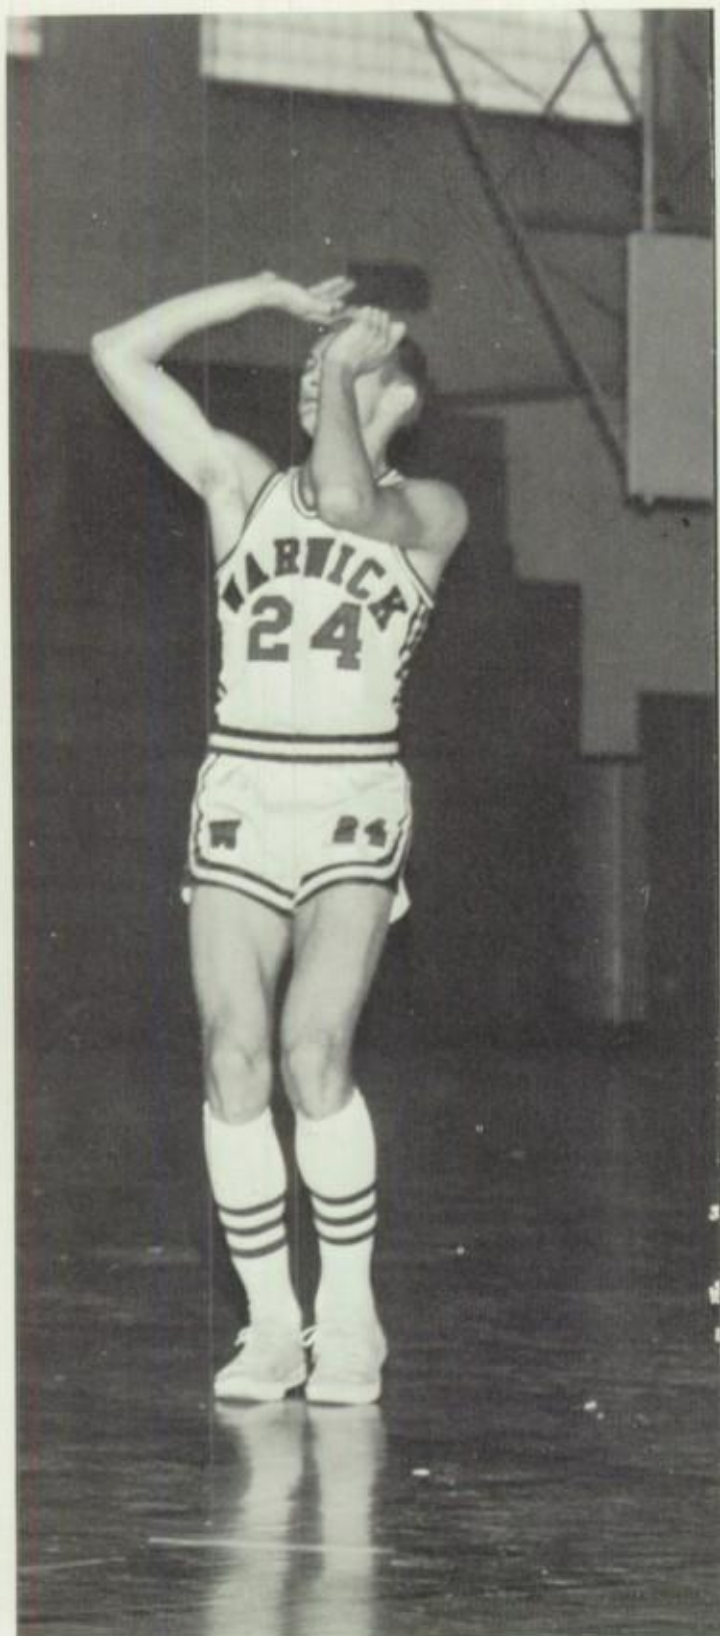

Promising varsity material for future years was seen in backs Dave Hickman, John Stainback, Randy Warren, and Thomas Connors. Linemen Steve Spriggs, Eugene Hutchens, Glen Reeves, and John Phillips should also see extensive duty for the Farmers in future years.

Varsity Basketball

With only four returning varsity players, Coach Wilbur Thompson and his assistant Jim Snow discovered the 1963-64 season to be one of rebuilding for the Warwick Varsity Basketball Team. However, the boys made up for what they lacked in height and experience with "hustle" and an intense desire to win. The majority of the games were not decided until the final minutes, and the Warwick five were often praised by opposing coaches for their brilliant play.

Led by fast-moving guard Tom Zehmer and the sharp shooting of Danny and Dickie Walker, the "Farmers" began the season with a victory over local rival Ferguson. The team followed this with wins over York, Oscar Smith, Craddock, Suffolk, and Deep Creek. A highlight of the Deep Creek game occurred when Danny Walker reached a high for the year with thirty points.

After first semester, added strength and boardwork by seniors Buddy Holowell and Craig Williams gave the team needed balance. Other outstanding and extensively used players were center Billy Dunn and forwards Tommy Butler and David Guilliams. The remainder of the team included juniors Danny Barker and Bobby Whetstine and sophomore Stu Garrett. With these underclassmen and a host of junior varsity hopefuls, the coming year promises to be extra bright.

The Varsity Basketball team members were: Dickie Walker, Tommy Butler, Billy Dunn, Cliff Livingston, Craig Williams, Danny Barker, David Guillems, Buddy Hollowell, and Danny Walker. Insets are Coach Thompson and Coach Snow.

Varsity Track

The Cross-Country Team under the capable direction of Coach Hubbard recorded a dual meet record of two wins and four losses. The team placed tenth in the Junior Chamber of Commerce Meet held at Frederick College and also placed tenth in the Eastern District Meet. The season closed with the team placing twenty-first in the State Meet held at the College of William and Mary.

Letters were presented to the top seven runners: Wayne Futrell, Thomas Morris, Bernard Proctor, William Hickman, Richard Willis, Doug Winstead, and Roger Crone. Wayne Futrell, a junior, was undefeated in dual meet competition and finished twelfth in the district. Sophomore Tom Morris finished seventeenth in the Eastern District.

This year's varsity track team was composed of mostly underclassmen and non-lettermen. Returning lettermen were Robert Deans in the sprints, David Guilliams in the high jump, and Phil Kinney in the hurdles. A lot of help was given by James Honeycutt and Walter McCulley in the dashes. John Dyksen, Bernard Proctor, and Richard Willis added in the distances while Danny Barker assisted in the high jump and Ray Hicks in the pole vault. Increased improvement made by the younger members of the team contributed much to a satisfying season.

Phil Kinney clears the high hurdle.

Coaches Turley, Quesenberry, Secules, and Hubbard pose with Robert Deans, the captain of the Indoor Tract Team.

J.V. Basketball

The Warwick High School Junior Varsity Basketball Team did not suffer lack of experience this year due to the number of returning J.V. players. Four of the starting five boys had previous experience from the preceding year.

This year was Coach Applegate's first year as coach of the team. He practiced the boys with great enthusiasm and tried to develop each boy to his best ability. The team's determination showed in their record, which ended at nine wins and nine losses.

Improvement and co-operation were the keys to the Farmer's success. In many of the clashes the final scores were extremely close. One of the best games played by the Farmers was against the Presidents from Woodrow Wilson. The Farmers lost this game in an overtime by one point.

Bob Kretz and Marty Bonnett shared scoring honors in most of the games. The young Farmers considered the two victories over Ferguson as two of their outstanding accomplishments of the season.

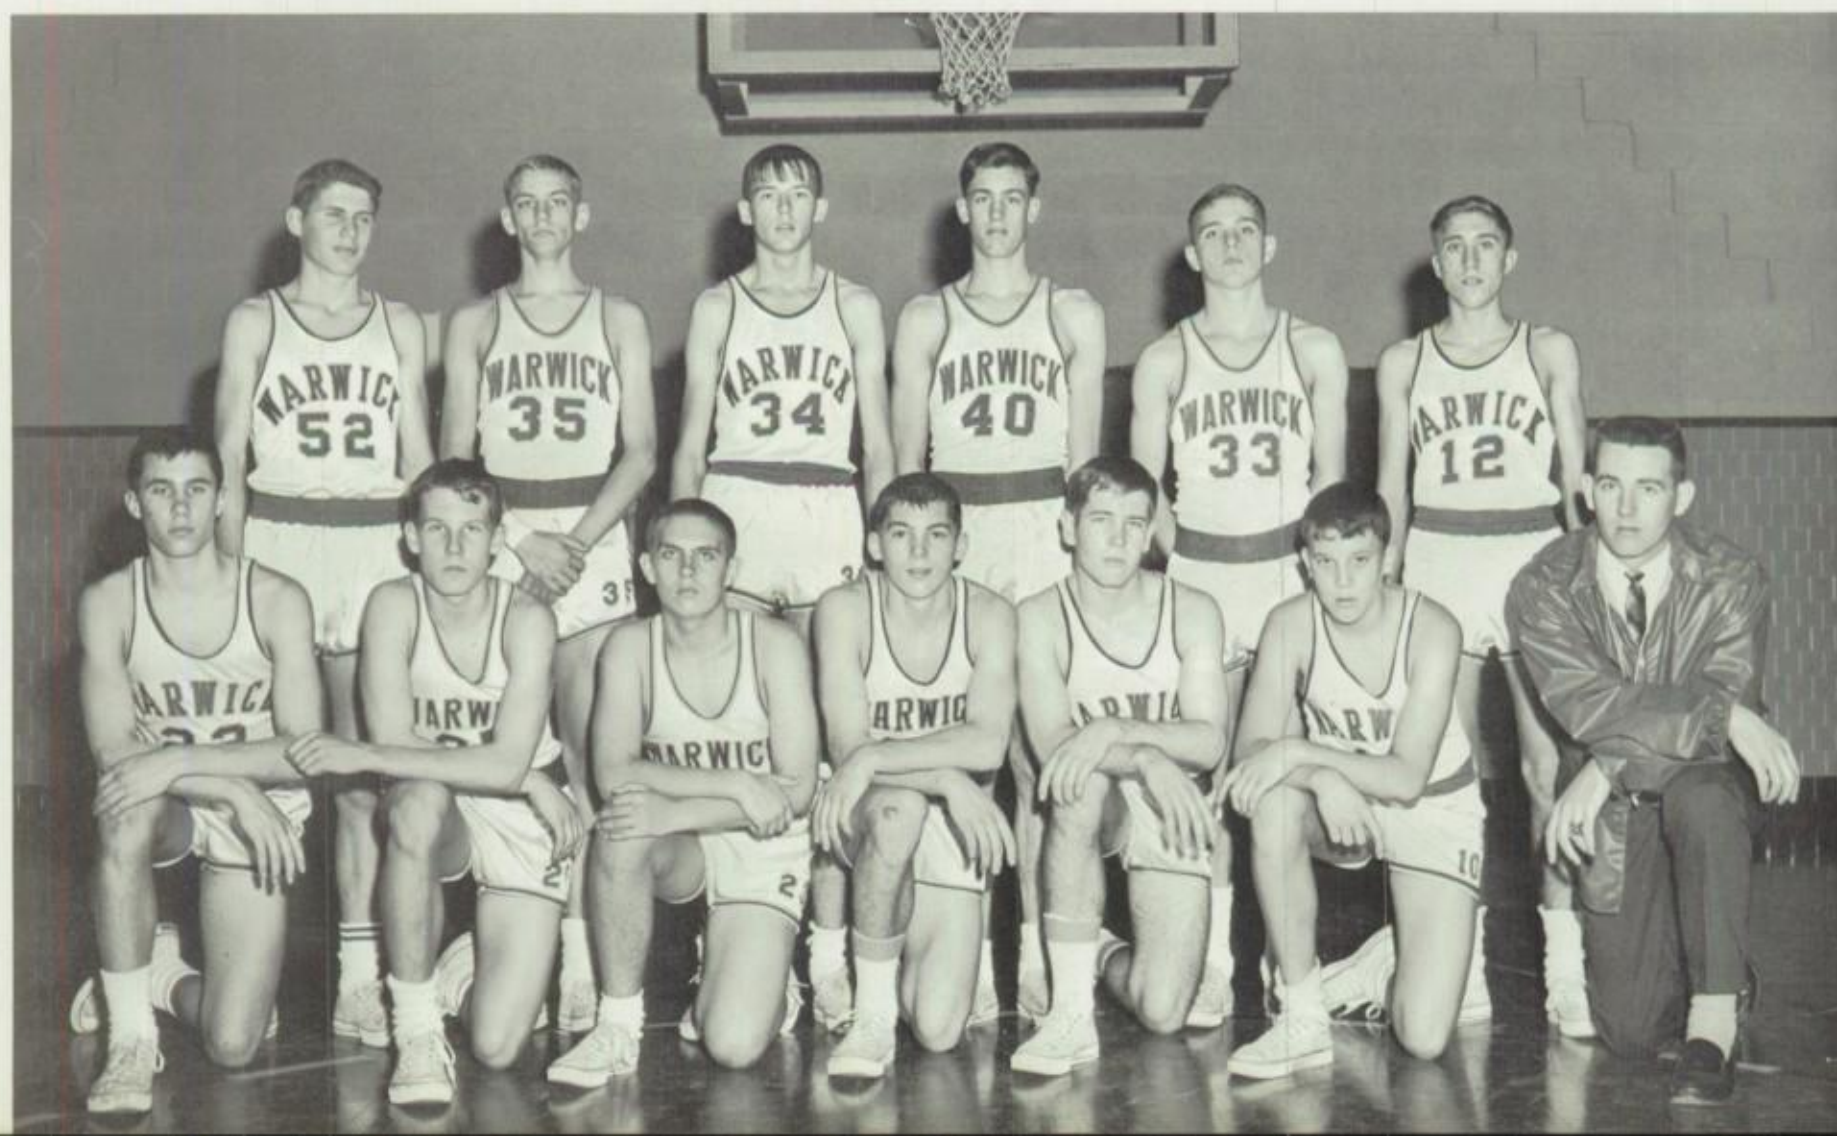

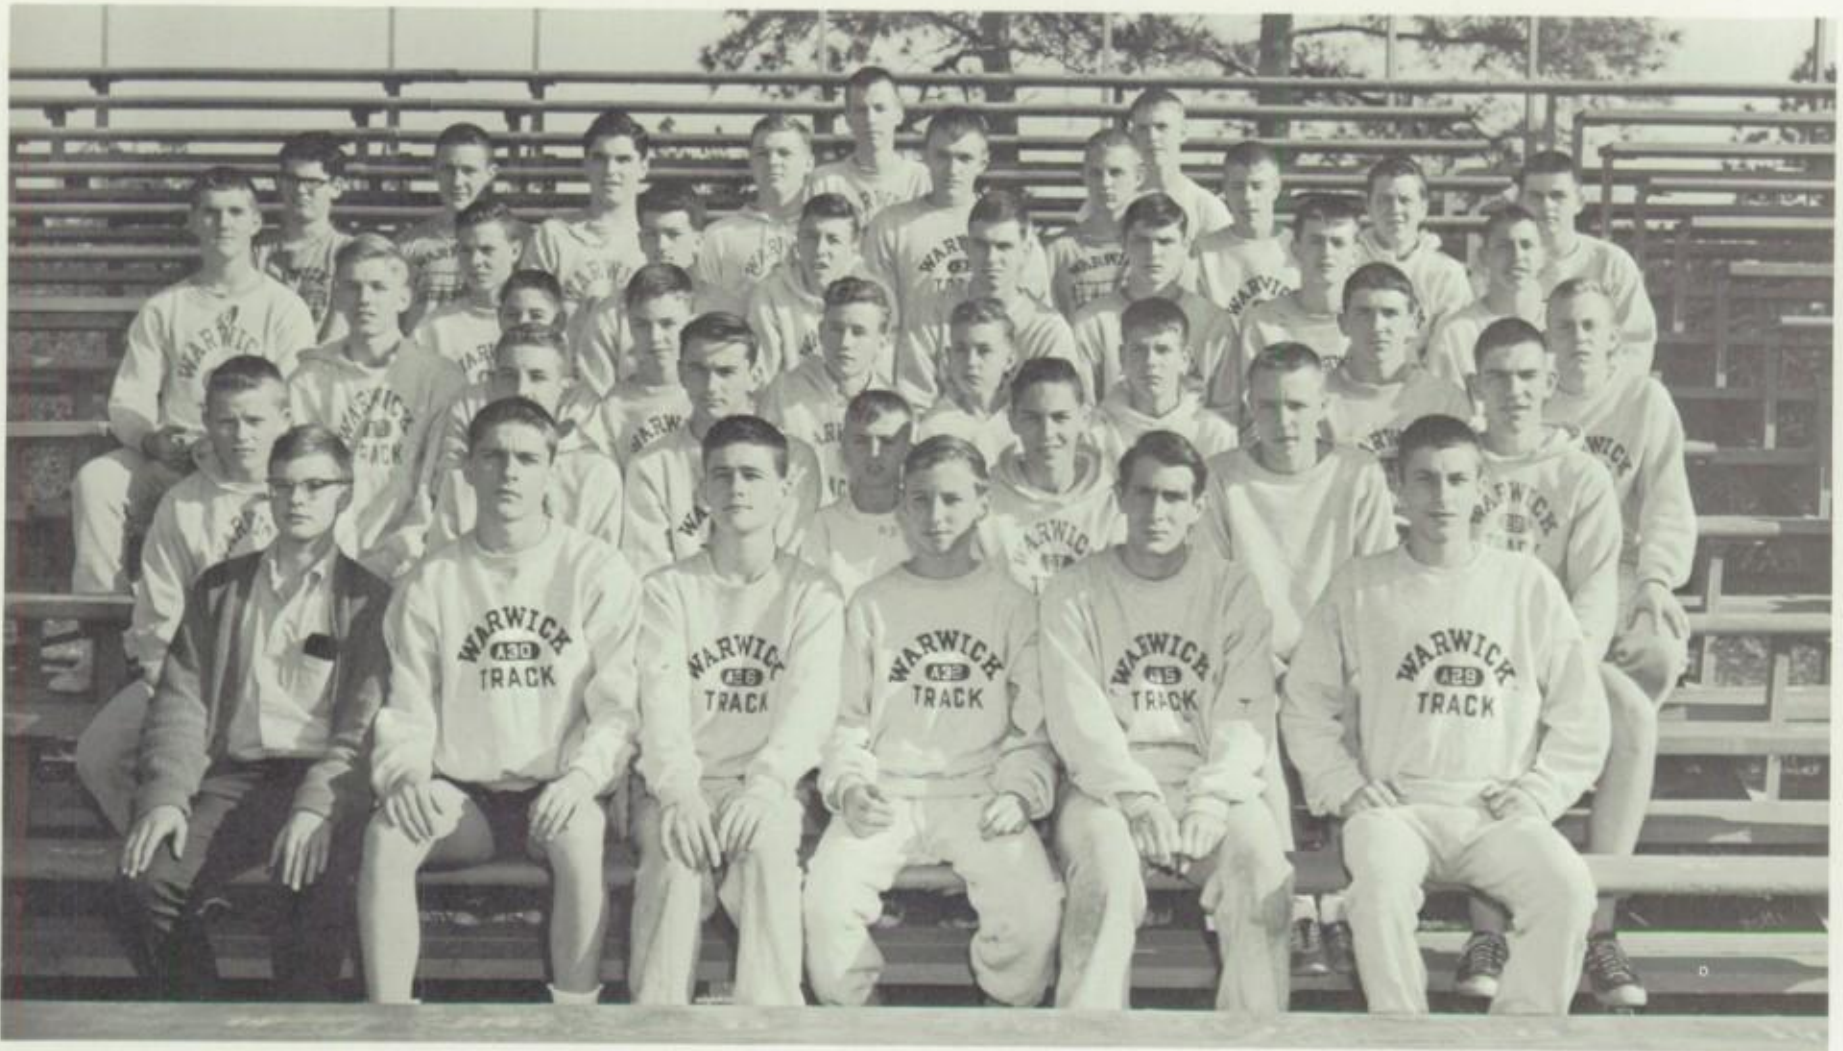

The J.V. team practices hard to keep in shape for a demanding schedule.

J.V. Track

The junior varsity cross-country team recorded a dual meet record of two wins and six losses. This year, due to the number of boys participating, James Honeycutt and Robert Deans served as student coaches. The top seven runners were Ronald Tice, Ronald Seymore, Donald Seymore, John Dyksen, Bill Lawson, Richard Love, and Larry Knight.

The 1964 junior varsity track team was the most talented group ever to represent Warwick High School. There were many eighth and ninth graders who were potential varsity material. Stuart Smith competed in the hurdles, sprints, and broad jump. Two eighth grade sprinters were Ronald Blume and Gerald Goens. David Scoggins was Smith's running mate in the hurdles along with Charles Twisdale. In the distances Ronald Tice, an eighth grader, was probably the best young prospect Warwick had ever had. The pole vault included two ninth graders, Joe Lumpkin and Greg Pritchard, and two tenth graders, Charles Ward and Charles Williams. Young 440 men and relay men who looked good were Jerry Dodson, Ronald Clough, William Kerly, Donald Osborne, David Boyd, and James Warren. It was an outstanding group of young weight men who were led by ninth graders Pat Carmean, Jerry Mahone, Steve Spriggs, John Phillips, and Frank Humphries.

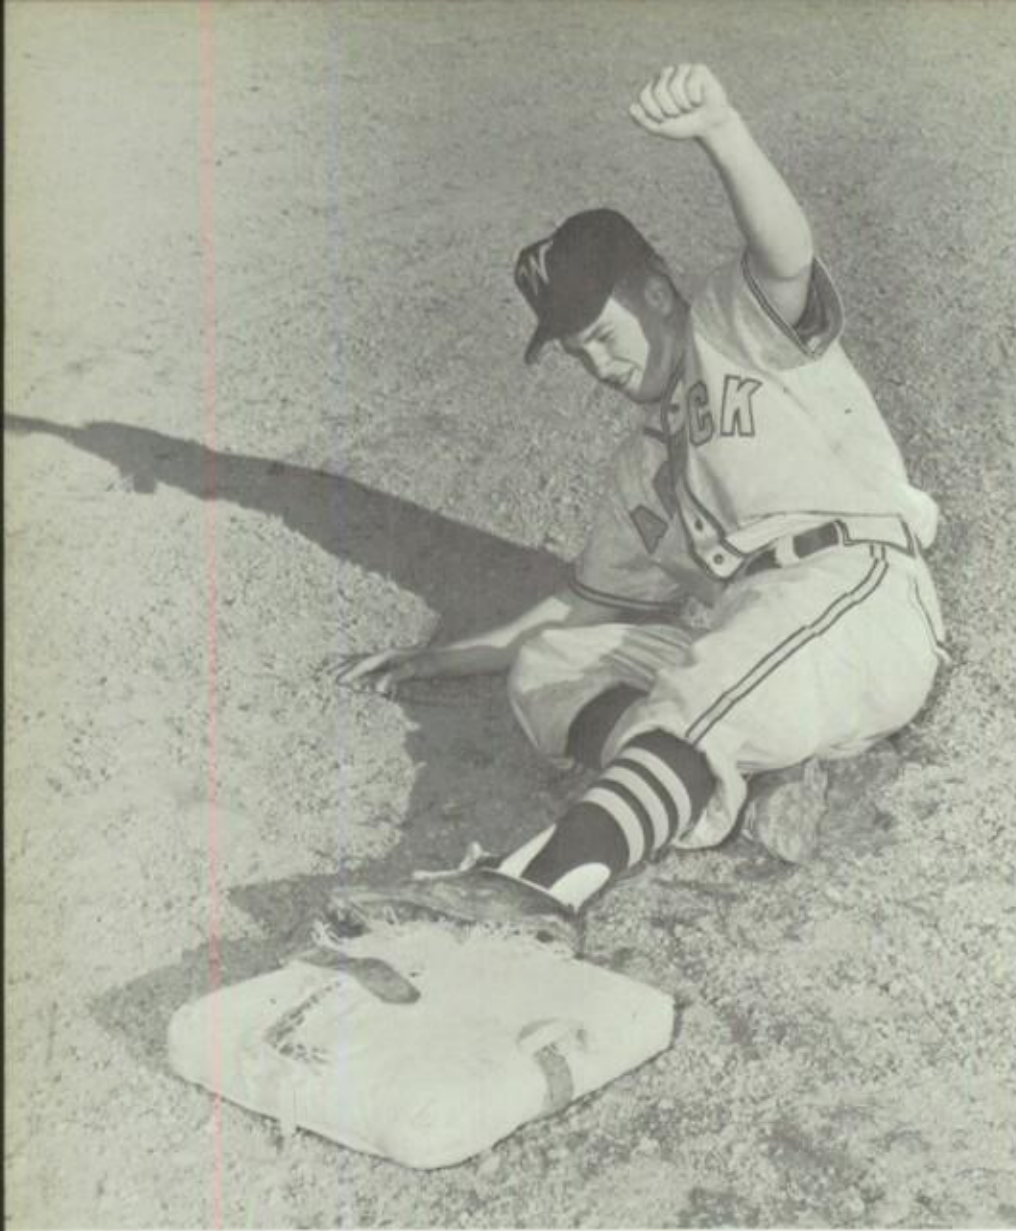

The J.V. Cross Country Track Team: Donald Seymore, Jack McDowell, Ronnie Tice, (back row) Larry Knight, John Dyksen, Ronald Seymore.

Varsity Baseball

Paced by only seven varsity veterans, the 1964 baseball team began its season with a fast moving game against Kecoughtan High School on March 25th. Coach Jim Snow realistically faced the team's weak points—inexperience and unpredictable hitting—and succeeded in forming a speedy, well-knit team which optimistically looked to the future.

Ranny Blanchard was the only experienced pitcher, but he was capably aided by Tommy Butler and Larry Ammons. Shep Holladay and Tom Parrish, the team's only seniors, were backed by such outstanding players as Art Morgan, Vic Kitchen, and Billy Mitchell. These boys toiled many hours striving to put forth their best, and the results clearly indicated that the team was worthy of praise.

Billy Mitchell slides into second base in a cloud of dust.

Warwick High School's Rookie Head Wrestling Coach, Bob Hasinger, watched his team gain much valuable experience during 1963-64. There were many young boys who had little or no experience, and the lack of boys at the 95 and 180 pound weight classes made the season more difficult. The Farmer grapplers continually forfeited two or three weights in each match.

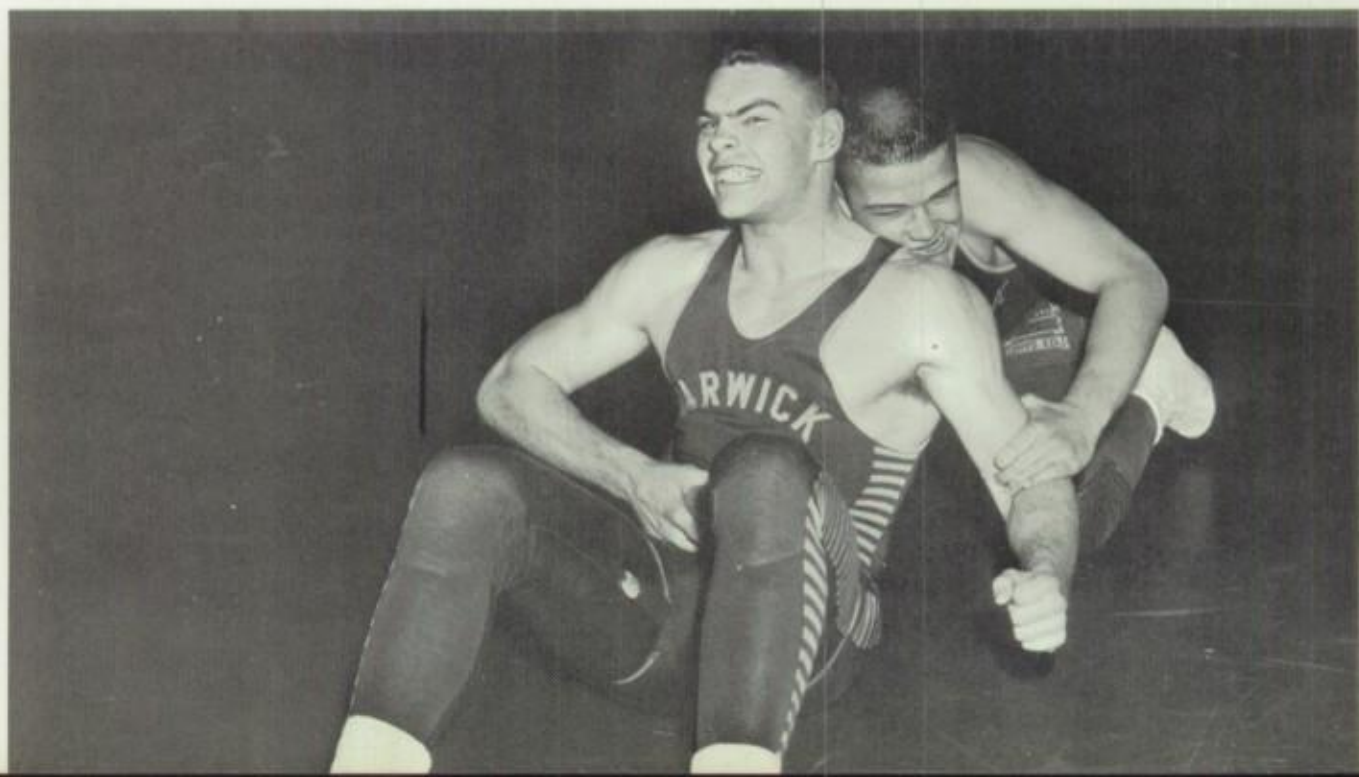

With no seniors and only two juniors, the team relied primarily on sophomores and freshmen. Only six members had any previous wrestling experience. Jim Brant was the only returning letterman, while Billy Busick, Randy Lucas, Randy Hutchinson, Claude Branch, and Arthur Morgan were awarded letters this year.

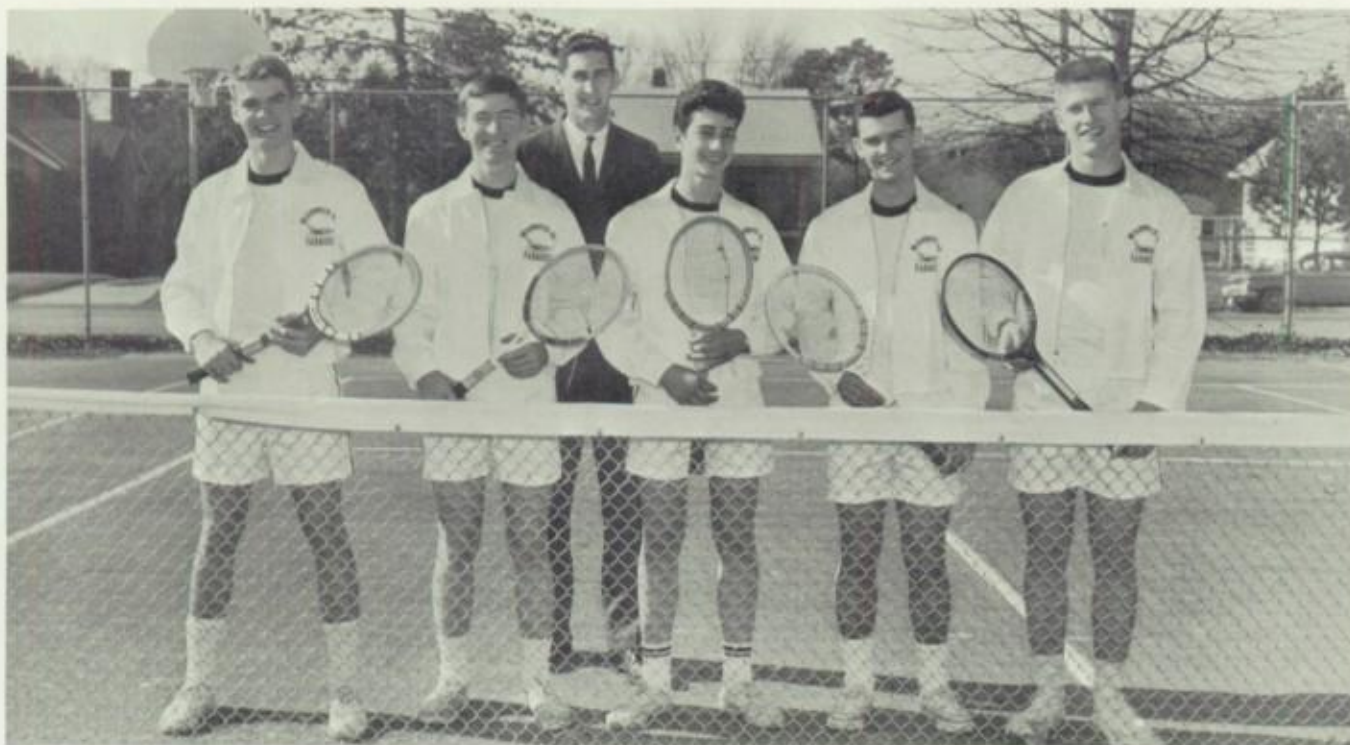

The team's best records were compiled by 133 pound Brant and heavyweight Morgan. Warwick placed sixth in the Regional Tournament which was held in Richmond. Out of four matches Morgan pinned three opponents and defeated Larry Perok of Ferguson for first place in the heavyweight division.

Morgan shined also in the State Tournament in Danville. Lucas and Morgan, Warwick's two representatives, gained points giving Warwick seventeenth place, while Morgan came out with third place in Virginia for the heavyweight division.

Many of the individuals of the team improved and showed enthusiasm during the season. Coach Hasinger looks forward to an improved season next year with a greater turn out.

Art Morgan and Claudie Branch have a hard practice session.

Among the top players on the 1963-64 Tennis Team were: Tom Peters, Don Kostka, Nabeel Al Salam, David Scoggins, and Bill Curling. Coach Waters is standing in the back.

Tennis

The 1964 tennis team was sparked by hard work and outstanding participation. Of the eighteen boys, Tom Peters was the only returning player, therefore Coach Waters concentrated on developing the underclassmen. This year's increased interest enabled a junior varsity team to be started for the first time. The boys participated in a ladder tournament which determined those to play in the various matches. A trip to Wilson's court began the eleven-match season with most of the home matches being played on nearby Ferguson's courts. To be eligible for the district tournament in May, the team had to defeat Ferguson and past champion, Suffolk, as well as other local high schools. High hopes for a good year were expressed by both the coach and the team, and no one was disappointed.

Warwick's 1963-'64 Golf Team: Jeff Dudley, Greg Stanley, Harvey Rowe, and Bobby Burch.

Golf

Because of more experience Coach Wilbur Thompson expected a better golf season this year than the 1963 one. Veterans Jeff Dudley and Bobby Burch, with the help of transfers Harvey Rowe, and Greg Stanley, should give Warwick its strongest golf team since the days of Ronnie Geringer.

They met many opposing teams in the four scheduled matches at the various country clubs. Due to the early deadline, one was not able to say if the team attended the District and State Tournament in Norfolk.

A hefty swing from star batter Al Mirmelstein will send the ball soaring—we hope!

J.V. Baseball

Coach Jeff Applegate relied on experienced players. Among those giving support were Ray Smith, John Stainback, Hayden Gregg, Wayne Javins, Thomas Conners, and William Judkins. David Hickman came through in fine fashion as the outstanding pitcher, while the hitting was sparked by Al Mirmelstein.

The 1963-64 J.V. Baseball team: Bill Rutherford, Ray Plott, Henry Valentine, Brooks Gone, Jerry Mann, Wayne Javins, Hayden Gregg, Frank Bobbitt, Gregory Chenail, Norman Hamilton, John Stainback, George Cannon, (second row) Herman

Perry, Will Lawson, John Howard, Al Hearst, David Hickman, David Snow, Thomas Conners, Al Mirmelstein, Bruce Pettetrex, Ray Smith, Coach Applegate.

Betty Kay Feamster exhibits grace and balance on the balance beam.

A tennis racket and a hockey stick took predominance as dual sports, to begin the Girls' Recreation Association's season of activities. Membership exceeded four hundred as girls from grades eight through twelve took part in seven teams and individual sports, which ranged from field hockey, softball, basketball, and volleyball to archery, tennis, and apparatus.

After spending afternoons in basic skill drills and scrimmage games, grade level teams were chosen to play against Newport News and Ferguson high schools in field hockey, basketball, and volleyball. The eighth grade formed its first hockey team while the seniors went to Great Bridge to take part in the Tidewater Field Hockey Tournament where they placed seven girls on the Allied team.

Warwick also participated in a state archery contest for Group One schools where they took a fifth place rating for team shooting and a silver third place award for individual scoring. The G. R. A. took part in the annual track and field meet held in the spring which was sponsored by a participating school.

For the first time, eighth and ninth grade teams were divided into three or four small teams and were coached by a senior. These smaller teams were later combined to enter competition against other area high schools.

An awards picnic was held in the later part of spring to present the G. R. A. awards to deserving members. These consist of certificates, pins, letters, and stars. Points were earned each afternoon that a member stayed and were compiled to determine the member's eligibility for the award. Officers and sports leaders for 1964-65 were announced at this annual picnic.

As a money making project, the G. R. A. sold sweatshirts to the physical education classes. This money was later used to purchase equipment to enlarge the program. To further strengthen the club the constitution was revised and these changes were adopted by the membership. The Girls' Recreation Association enjoyed a profitable year in every respect.

Janet Burgess demonstrates skill on the new uneven parallel bars.

G.R.A.

A little of the right kind of assistance can make a return much easier.

Brenda Bumette is all outfitted for an afternoon of shooting.

Bonnie Vandebree, Delores Holton, and Jeannie Albertson demonstrate the correct way to hold a tennis racket.

Folk dancing is a strenuous but enjoyable pastime.

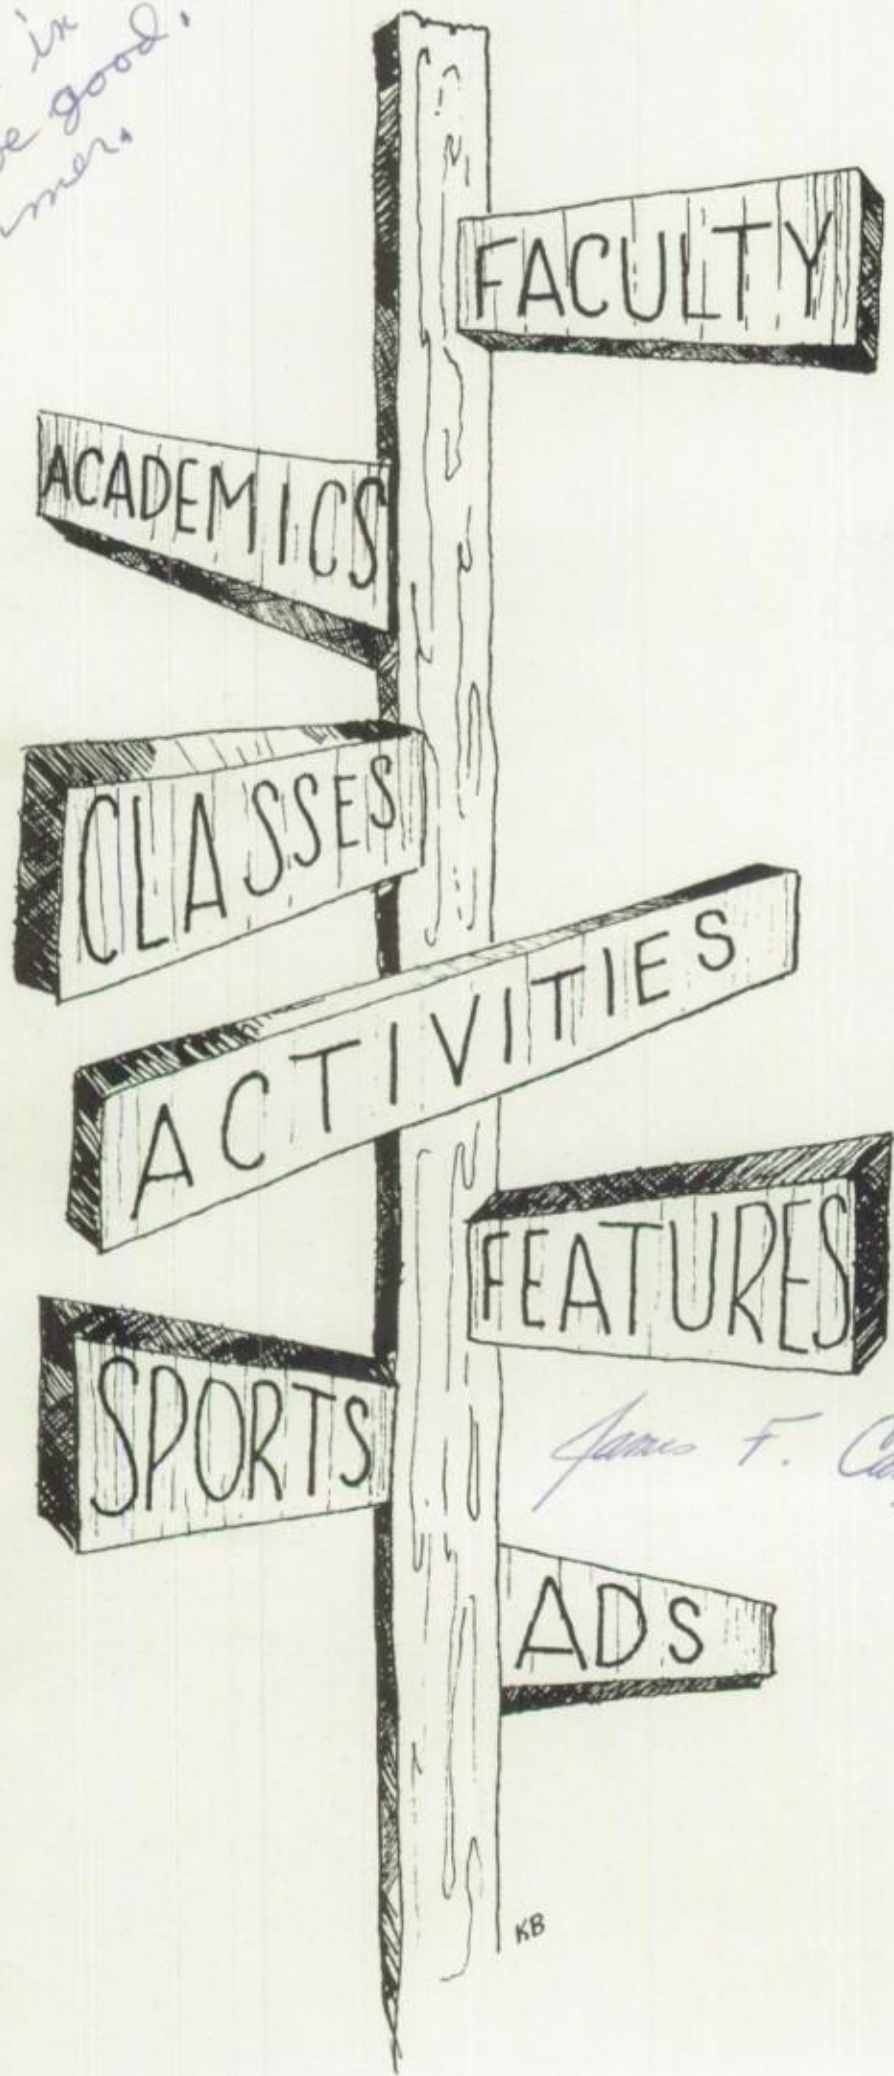

"But who do I tackle after I hit the ball?"

Betty Kay Feamster, Janice Butler, Mary Frances Vaughan, Linda Peach, Thirza Stinson, Elsie Carter, Terry Fullman, Bette King, Suzy Gallier, and Dorothy Seymore made up the Senior Hockey Team.

To Marion, a real sweet girl and I have enjoyed knowing you this year. I wish you

Dear Marion,

Well, here it is the end of another school year. I can't believe that we'll be seniors next year.

Never forget all the times we've had together - some good, some not quite so good. Remember the nights you spent with me - our long talks that I enjoyed so much. Remember Christmas Eve, and how we went to the Burger Chef and got something to eat after the church service. And, of course, don't forget the fun you and Judy and I had over Thanksgiving. I have enjoyed most of all our long talks during which we not only got to know each other, but also helped each other. It was really wonderful to have such a good friend as you.

I hope we are always as good friends as we are now. You will be gone quite a bit this summer, but I hope we can still find some time to get together. And next fall we can eat lunch together every day, if we're lucky enough to get the same lunch periods. I wish you were going to take advanced composition so we could have a class together - Oh well. Best of luck always to a wonderful girl - let's always stay as good friends as we are now. See you this summer!

Love Always,
Diane
